

Yanks On Lone
Patrol Search Mountains For Missing Mates

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press War Correspondent

With the Fifth Army in Italy, Sept. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—The path ended in a pile of rocks about a quarter of a mile below the topmost peak of the mountain. Not even the jeep could go any further, and a jeep can go almost anywhere.

The sergeant got out and squeezed up toward the top. He drew his carbine from the holster on the side of the jeep and put a couple of extra clips of ammunition in his pocket. Then he said to the driver:

4 SOLDIERS MISSING
"If I'm not back by dark you go on down the hill, but wait as long as you can."

We watched him until he disappeared around a shoulder of rock covered with scrub pine.

"He's got guts," said the driver. "I'd hate to have to do what he's doing."

Four soldiers are missing somewhere up there. They went up to establish a lookout post and then they simply disappeared. No sign has come from them for two days. The sergeant, Richard Stansell of Littlefield, Texas, had come up to find them.

"They probably got the snafoo from a German patrol," said the driver. "These hills are full of Germans. Particularly snipers. A sniper could knock him off so quick he'd never know what hit him. He's sure got guts."

VOLUNTARY TASK
The shadows lengthened across the plain and crept slowly up the slopes of the mountains. Pools of darkness were forming beneath every clump of pine and in the pockets of rock.
"The thing is," the driver said, "he wouldn't really have to stick his neck out like this.
He could come up just this far and look around right from here and then say he couldn't find those guys. And nobody would ever know any different. I'd sure be tempted to do just that if it was me."

The hills were deathly still.
A bird called mournfully in the fading light. An hour passed.
Then the sergeant came back.
His brown shirt was blotched and stained with sweat and his face was dripping. He was breathing hard.

"Not a sign of them," he said,
"not a single solitary sign."
He poured a canteen of water over his head and let it run down his cheek and arms and into his pants. Then he sat down and lit a cigarette.

"HE ISN'T SCARED"
"There's just one other thing, Jim," he said to the driver.
"You see that point over there.
They might have gone over there."

"Sure, I see it," said the soldier.
"Well, how about you taking a look over there. You got maybe half an hour of light left and you ought to be able to make it," said the sergeant.
"I'm plumb tired out or I'd go myself."

"Sure," said the driver.
He took his rifle and made sure it was loaded. Then he began climbing.
"He's a good guy," said the sergeant. "He isn't scared to go anywhere."

STERNER ARRESTED

Charles W. Sterner, Jr., former councilman, was arrested Thursday evening on a charge of desertion and non-support filed by his wife.
He posted bond to appear in court on the charge which was laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Base-more.

It Takes War

Bonds To Do This

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—
The war to date has cost us
$128,123,000,000, President Roosevelt told Congress today, as he listed these fighting items produced and delivered between May, 1940, and Sept. 1, 1943:

- 123,000 airplanes
 - 349,000 airplane engines
 - 53,000 tanks
 - 93,000 artillery weapons
 - 9,500,000 small arms
 - 25,942,000 rounds of small arms ammunition
 - 1,233,000 trucks
 - 2,380 fighting ships and auxiliaries
 - 13,000 landing vessels.
- These items were given simply as samples of what the outlay has bought.

3 Allied Armies Contact In Italy

MAKES APPEAL TO COUNTIANS TO BUY BONDS

"The relationship between Adams county's quota in the Third War Bond drive and the fighting men at Salerno, where the Allies are meeting their toughest battle of the war is very direct," Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the County War Finance committee, said today in an appeal to all countians to "back up this bond drive to the very limit,"
Mr. Thomas added.

"We are making progress in our drive to reach our quota of $2,134,- 100 and the heaviest and hardest part of our work lies ahead.

"We must go to the people to get money to finance this war and to get money we must go to the people who have money. Most of the burden is on those who have money and not on the average small wage earner.

"This drive means that we must raise an average of $50 per person
... for every man, woman and child in the county.

"If some individual finds it too difficult or financially impossible to purchase his or her quota perhaps his neighbor, of more than average means, can do a little more and thus make up that difference.

$438,802 Bond Sales
"Some people in Adams county have not purchased a single bond since the inception of the bond drives. There are public funds that lie idle that should be invested in government bonds. School boards, boroughs and other municipal agencies that have funds should purchase war bonds with those funds.
We are counting on every available individual and agency to help put this drive across and I'm confident the good people of this county will not let our community down."

Thursday's sales from all reporting agencies total $46,925, boosting the grand total for the county at the close of the eighth day of the drive up to $438,802.

One committee member said he was confident that the grand total is at least a half million dollars because some agencies have not reported their sales to date.

State Sales

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—Pennsylvania was behind the nation as a whole today in the third war loan.

While sales throughout the country passed the half-way mark toward the $15,000,000,000 goal, State Chairman E. A. Roberts reported that Pennsylvania contributed only $331,200,000—slightly less than one-third of its billion dollar quota.

Philadelphians were credited with $198,028,837. Allegheny county residents $91,600,000.

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—The $15,000,000,000 third war loan headed into its second and tougher half today.

Thursday sales of $2,620,000,000 worth of bonds swelled the total for the eight-day-old drive to $7,679,- 000,000 but brought this admission from National Director Ted Gamble:

Easiest Part Over
"The easiest part of the task is over. From now on it will mean a beating of the bushes to reach the

START NURSES' AIDES' CLASS

Another class of nurses' aides will start about October 1, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the nurses' aide committee, announced today.
The drive to enroll 25 members will be generated under the slogan
"Have you earned your bridge game?" Classes in nurses' aide work are being organized throughout the country and the slogan is generally adopted.

Mrs. Sydney J. Poppay will again be the instructor for the class which will hold afternoon sessions, instead of in the evening as has been customary in the past, at the nurses' home.

Several women have already enrolled for the forthcoming class and it is hoped to have the largest membership for the session which will begin next month.

Mrs. Scharf said today that there is an ever-increasing demand for nurses' aides because of the shortage of registered nurses and the steadily increasing amount of work at the local hospital.

Nurses' aides are asked to take the course and then serve part of their leisure time at the hospital assisting the regular nurses' staff.

Buy's "War Stamp" So His Daddy Can Come Home

"I want to buy stamps so my daddy can come home soon."

That's what three-year-old Larry Bennett, 56 Hanover street, told a Gettysburg Times photographer as he stood on his tiptoes to hand Acting Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler a dime at the War Stamp window in the local postoffice the other day.

Larry, who will be four next February, knows more about the war than most Gettysburgians for he and his father and mother were at Pearl Harbor that Sunday morning in December, 1941, when the Japs struck.

The lad remembers the roar of the Jap planes. He heard the bombs blast and saw columns of smoke rising from Pearl Harbor where his dad's boat lay.

13 Years' Service

His father, Chief Petty Officer Everett A. Bennett remains on duty in the Pacific war theater and Larry is longing for the day when—after the war is over—he can see his father again either by returning to the latter's service post in peacetime or by having his father come to Gettysburg to see him.

in March, 1942, while Chief Petty Officer Bennett, veteran of 13 years of service in Uncle Sam's Navy, remained at his post. Mrs. Bennett and Larry—who Larry's 10-month-old brother who has never seen his father—are living with Mrs. Bennett's mother, Mrs. Myra Houck, Hanover street.

Larry, who owns both war bonds and stamps, was glad to let the photographer take his picture as he bought a war stamp in the Third War Loan drive.

"I'm going to send it to my Daddy," he explained.

J. Quincy Jacobs Interred Today

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Allison funeral home, Fairfield, for J.
Quincy Jacobs, 75, who died at the Warner hospital Tuesday afternoon.
The Rev. E. G. Colestock officiated.
Interment in Union cemetery, Fairfield.

The pallbearers were J. B. Waddle,
M. F. Stoner, C. L. Sheads, John Baker, Harry Brown and Arthur Moore.

Cadet Corporal Injured By Car

Corporal James Montgomery, 21, of the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college, suffered cuts, abrasions and mild concussion this morning about 10 o'clock when he was struck by a car near Huber hall. He was treated at the Warner hospital.

The cadet is reported to have run out of Huber hall to get into formation with his unit when he was struck by the auto. Chief of Police Glenn Guise said this afternoon the name of the driver has not been learned although the autoist is reported to have stopped after the mishap.

NEW SERGEANT TECHNICIAN

Harry D. Ridinger, now stationed at Camp Gruber, Okla., has been promoted from corporal to Sergeant Technician instead of technical sergeant as was announced previously.
Sgt. Ridinger, who is a former deputy clerk of the courts of Adams county, is the husband of Mrs. La-Rue K. Ridinger, Baltimore street.

Weather Forecast
Cooler this afternoon and tonight;
light frost tonight.

3,000 POUNDS OF TIN CANS DRIVE GOAL

One and one-half tons of tin cans and as many tons of paper as can be obtained will be the goal of the local fire company Tuesday evening when it conducts its September salvage drive. The quota of tin cans is based on a state-wide quota of two cans per person for the month announced Thursday at a meeting of the eastern county salvage heads at Harrisburg, Vernon B.
Corle, head of the local firemen's committee stated.

Five cans weigh a pound placing Adams county's quota for September at 16,000 pounds, and Gettysburg's at 3,000 pounds. The firemen will begin their monthly tour of the community at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, driving trucks through all of the streets of the town to pick up salvage materials placed on the sidewalks by residents.

Some Cans Not Usable

A plea was made today that townspeople separate brown paper, magazines and other types of paper into special bundles in order to facilitate handling of the materials, and that all greasy wrapping paper, or parchment paper, or other paper that is not readily soluble in water be removed from the waste paper before it is bundled for salvage. Insoluble paper cannot be used to construct boxes and other articles made from the reclaimed salvage paper, it was stated.

A request was also made that all tin cans be properly processed before being placed on the sidewalks for salvage. All labels must be washed off and the inside of the cans cleaned. Hundreds of cans had to be thrown away during the recent

Christian Endeavor Retreat, Sept. 26

The Christian Endeavor Union of Adams county will hold its annual Retreat at Mt. Joy Lutheran church, Sunday September 26, beginning at 2 p. m. The theme for the day will be "About My Father's Business."

The Rev. Marshall E. Brenneman, director of Camp Nawakwa, will be the principal speaker for the evening session. In the afternoon, there will be five discussion groups, "Building Worship Programs," "The Society Meeting," "Society Administration," "Society Promotion" and "The Junior Society" led by officers of the county union. After the afternoon session, there will be a box luncheon and then the evening meeting.

All persons interested in Christian Endeavor are cordially invited to attend the sessions.

START CLUB WORK

The first re-organization meeting of an Adams county adult home economics club this fall will be held Thursday when the Granite Station club will meet with Mrs. Frank Vanderwalt, Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics advisor announced today.

COUPLE TO WED

A marriage license was issued at the court house today to Paul Clement Cole, U. S. Army, son of Francis J. Cole, Sr., Biglerville R. 1, and Anna Marie Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Riley, Gettysburg
R. 3.

92 MEMBERS IN LOCAL UNIT OF STAR BRIGADE

Ninety-two members are enrolled in the Blue Star Brigade, the organization of county women who are pledged to buy or sell at least $100 worth of war bonds during the Third War Bond drive.

Members are enrolling as sponsors of their sons, husbands, nephews or friends who are in the armed service.

While operating the registration booth at the Hotel Gettysburg where women may enroll in the Brigade those on duty are also selling bonds.
Thursday's sale of bonds at the Hotel booth totaled $5,025 and sales at the booth at the First National bank totaled $437.50.

Mrs. Roy T. Bream has been appointed a Colonel in the Brigade

Ira E. Lady Post Installs Officers

Officers for the ensuing year were installed at a meeting of the Ira E.
Lady Post 262, American Legion, Biglerville, Thursday evening. Stanton D. House, commander of the 22nd district, conducted the installation. Clarence D. Deardorff, retiring commander, presided.
Those installed were: Commander,
Paul O. Diehl; first vice commander, James B. Routsong; second vice commander, Ralph J. Stoner; finance officer, Clarence D. Deardorff; chaplain, the Rev. Henry W. Ster-nat; and sergeant-at-arms, Alvey Gantz. Mr. Stoner was appointed adjutant by Mr. Diehl.

DINNER MEET SEPT. 28

The September Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting will be held Tuesday evening, September 28, at the Hotel Gettysburg. President Mares Sherman said today. Ralph W. Cummings of the state Department of Commerce will speak on community post war planning.

LIGHTER ADDS TWO COUNTIES

Richard C. Lighter, agricultural education advisor for the Adams county schools for the last four years, has also been made agricultural supervisor for Cumberland and Perry counties, it was announced this morning by the bureau of agricultural education of the state Department of Public Instruction. Mr. Lighter began his new duties today.

The Adams county agricultural education supervisor assumes the duties of Harold Park, supervisor for Cumberland and Perry counties, who has been assigned to full-time work in the state Out-of-School Youth Training office at Harrisburg until victory.

Mr. Lighter's work in the two additional counties will be the same as in Adams county, it was stated.
His duties include supervising and coordinating vocational agriculture and rural war production training work.

Approximately one-third of Mr.
Lighter's time will be spent in each of the counties, the announcement said. He will continue to maintain his headquarters in Gettysburg.

Child Treated For Snake Bite Here

Anne May, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul May, Biglerville, was treated at the Warner hospital here Thursday evening for a snakebite on the right foot.
The injury was incised and the girl was kept at the hospital over night for observation but was discharged this morning. Hospital records said it was a copperhead snake that inflicted the injury.

Vaughn Dunlap, aged eight years, Biglerville R. 1, was treated Thursday evening at the hospital for a fracture of a bone in his right arm.
He received the injury when he fell while helping to drive cows near his home. He was treated and allowed to go home.

FAIRFIELD C.C. HONORS SHOE MANUFACTURER

L. E. Beaudin, head of the Beaudin Shoe company, which opened a branch plant in Fairfield in May, was honored at a dinner given Thursday evening by the members of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce. One hundred thirty-eight members and guests attended.

Judge W. C. Sheely was the principal speaker at the session at which Mr. Beaudin and community representatives also spoke. The Rev. Fr. John J. Onofrey, New Freedom, former priest at St. Mary's Catholic church in Fairfield, was the toastmaster.

The opening prayer was by the Rev. Emmert G. Colestock, pastor of the Fairfield Lutheran church.
Judge Sheely addressed the group on the subject of "The Four Freedoms" and stressed the responsibility of individuals and communities in this nation to help maintain and preserve those basic liberties.

Tells Post-War Plans

Mrs. Ira Henderson addressed the group on the subject of community spirit and cooperation. The Rev.
John Ehrhart, Fairfield Reformed
pastor, and the Rev. Fr. Joseph G.
Gotwalt, present rector at St. Mary's church, spoke briefly.

Then Mr. Beaudin told the Chamber members and guests of his plans for expanding operations at Fairfield that will include a new factory building after the war. The factory will not be the Beaudin factory but "The Fairfield Shoe factory," he said. He said he plans to manufacture a type of shoe for men and women retailing at $4 per pair and emphasized that fact that he is eager to furnish machinery, facilities and supervision but that the future of the shoe industry in Fairfield depends to a large extent upon the support and cooperation the venture is given by the community.

Group singing during the evening was led by Mrs. Robert Deardorff, music teacher in the Fairfield schools. Special guests presented during the evening included Mrs.
Beaudin; Mr. and Mrs. George Foye,

EMERGENCY GAS MEETING HERE THIS EVENING

Because of the dwindling supply of gasoline and the increase in consumption generally, an emergency meeting of the Gettysburg and New Oxford ration board members and chairmen and members of transportation committees of industrial plants in this area has been called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock, the OPA announced at Harrisburg today.

The meeting will be held in the Gettysburg board headquarters, Hotel Eberhart with representatives of the Harrisburg district OPA office in attendance.

Plans for the inauguration of a "gas recovery campaign" will be outlined and appropriate steps will be taken to bend every effort toward "cutting to the bone" existing over-issuance of gasoline coupons, the OPA explained.

Series of Meetings

The meeting here this evening is one of a series being held throughout the Harrisburg district. Meetings are being held this evening at Lebanon and Lewistown also. Last night a similar session was conducted in Harrisburg.

An Associated Press account of the Harrisburg meeting follows:
"Supplemental gasoline rations in the 10-county Harrisburg OPA district will be cut drastically under a fuel recovery program announced last night at a meeting of ration

Official Count Starts Today

L. U. Collins, Gettysburg R. 1, and J. Blaine Bushey, Biglerville R. 2, began at noon today their duties of conducting the official count of the county's primary election vote.

The two clerks were appointed by the Adams county court acting as a special election commission because two of the members of the regular board of elections, Commissioners J. Arthur Boyd and George P. Taylor, were both candidates for re-nomination at the primaries.

British Make 200 Mile Trip To Join Clark

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Fifth Army of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and the British Eighth Army fused their fronts with establishment of contact between patrols following an amazing northward march of nearly 200 miles from the Italian toe by Gen. Sir Bernard L.
Montgomery's veterans, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Eighth Army also made contact with British forces beating up the Italian east coast from Taranto, a communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced.
All three of the Allied beachheads on the west, south and east thereby were welded into a single front.

Ring Of Steel Is Broken

The contact between Gen. Montgomery's speeding warriors and Gen. Clark's American and British troops, who for eight days had fought the greatest engagement of the Mediterranean war in order to maintain their west coast foothold, was made somewhere in or near the southern end of the Salerno bridgehead.

Linking of the two armies broke the enemy's ring of steel around Gen. Clark's Tommies and Doughboys and appeared to have ended the critical period of the battle fought against four or more German armored divisions on the bloodstained beaches.

Announcement of the contact was made by Allied headquarters shortly after a communique had told of Montgomery's capture of Vallo Della Lucania, only 16 miles from Agropoli, at the southern end of the 27-mile front held by the Fifth Army.

Smash Three Counterattacks

At the same time Clark's army struck out from its hard-won shoreline and recaptured the mountain village of Albanella, 10 miles inland, smashed three German counterattacks and flattened out several German salients that had been driven into Allied positions.

In a final desperate attempt at splitting Clark's army before the Eighth Army's arrival, the Germans threw crack assault troops and tanks into three furious attacks yesterday.

In knocking back these attacks, the Allies took a substantial number of prisoners, including a battalion commander at Montecorvino.
Five enemy tanks were knocked out at the latter place, also.

As a result of the attacks Clark's troops seized high ground south of the Calore river from which German guns had commanded southern portions of the bridgehead.

A message from the battle front said "we are beating off everything the Germans are able to put in.
The morale and fighting spirit of Fifth Army troops could not be better. It has been tough going, but we are over the hump and things are going our way."

LISTS 3 BIG ALLIED GAINS IN LAST DAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press War Analyst)

The past twenty-four hours have produced three notable achievements for Allied arms.

First in American hearts must come the good news that the gallant American and British troops on the bloody beaches of Salerno not only have made secure their bridgehead but have seized the initiative and are on the offensive. Our boys have weathered the initial stage of a nasty German storm.

Second, and more important militarily, is the unemotional word from Moscow that the Red Army has broken the German line in the vitally strategic sector east of the Kiev-Zaporozhe line of the Dnieper River. That vastly increases the gravity of the Hitlerite position.

Fight Going Well

Third we have the Russian recapture of their big Black Sea naval base of Novorossisk which is, so to speak, the hinge of the narrow gateway the Nazis have been holding at the Kuban Peninsula entrance to the Caucasus. This jeopardizes the whole German position at the last remaining vantage ground from which they could glimpse the lakes of golden oil for lack of which they are in dire straits.

This is the ninth day of the battle of Salerno and, while heavy fighting continues, it goes all right. Thousands of reinforcements are being poured into our ranks. While the Germans have the advantage of their fortified positions on the heights overlooking the open beaches, Allied warships control the sea and Allied warplanes dominate the air.

The Nazi defenses are being mercilessly blasted with both bombs and big naval shells. The Allies are employing the greatest concentration of airpower seen in the Mediterranean.

"Guinea Pig" Public

By the way, if the reader will excuse an interpolation while we are on the subject of Italy, there are a couple of questions I wish somebody would answer for me.

Is it necessary, in order to sell bonds and keep the American public from "this foolish, childish over-optimism," to make such depressing speeches as our usually smiling friend the Secretary of the Treasury made Wednesday about the Italian campaign? Does the man-in-the-street really have to be treated as a psychological guinea pig, so that he won't become complacent, or is he in fact a pretty solid and understanding citizen? Why does Mr. Morgenthau have to talk about "when and if we conquer Italy"—why the "if"?

Why is this "the beginning of the war, so far as the United States is concerned," when hearts and backs have been broken for almost two years without a whimper to meet colossal demands? After all, who is there who doesn't realize that we have tremendous sacrifices ahead of us, both on the battle fields and on the home front?

Nazis Liked It

The Nazis liked part of Mr. Morgenthau's speech so much that they used it for propaganda to buck up their own people. It surely can't be good for both Nazis and Yankees—or is it?

But to get back to our muttens, the Germans on the Russian front are faced with two momentous problems: (1) whether they can pull back their long, unwieldy, badly mauled line to the defenses of the Dnieper river and there re-establish themselves; (2) whether they can overcome the grave danger of being cut off in the Crimea, as the result of the fall of Novorossisk and the steadily increasing threat to their right flank near the northern entrance to the Crimean peninsula. The indications now are that the Nazis' hope of standing off further disastrous reverses must lie in the possibility that the autumn rains, which already have begun, will slow the Russians down until cold weather arrives to freeze the ground. The mud is a terrible impediment during the rainy season.

Seek Heavy Cut In Gas Usage

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—A campaign to reduce by 25 per cent the total consumption of gasoline by holders of all gasoline ration books except "A" for commercial permits in the five-state area of Region 2 of the Office of Price Administration has been instituted, Regional OPA Administrator Sylvan L. Joseph announced yesterday.

Joseph said "every coupon not necessary for absolutely essential usage will be recalled" in an effort to save 24,000,000 gallons of gasoline a month.

The affected area, he said, included New York state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia. He asserted local War Price and Rationing boards would review issuance during the last several months of all gasoline books except in the "A" and commercial categories.

EGGS UP ONE CENT

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17 (AP)—The ceiling price on eggs went up another penny yesterday. New top prices announced by the Pittsburgh District Office of Price Administration are 67 to 69 cents a dozen for the extra large size.

BULLETINS

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 17 (AP)—A terrific explosion and resulting fires damaged several buildings and caused an undetermined number of casualties at the Norfolk Naval Air Station today. Force of the blast shook sections of Norfolk 10 miles from the station.

Stockholm, Sept. 17 (AP)—Peace sentiment in Finland was given a strong boost today through an announcement by Premier Edwin Linkomies identifying himself as the anonymous spokesman who was quoted as saying September 11 that his country wished to withdraw from the war. At that time, Linkomies declared Finland regretted being at war with England and desired peace with Russia if she could be assured of her pre-1939 independence and territorial status.

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Sept. 17 (AP)—Reports from the fighting front indicate Lae is tottering and its fall is imminent. While Allied airmen marked up another amazing aerial victory over the Japanese—with 48 and probably 59 enemy fighters destroyed out of an attacking force of 60 to 70—strong Allied ground forces were reported converging on the New Guinea base for the kill.

London, Sept. 17 (AP)—Three Russian armies smashing westward through the southern Ukraine closed in on Krasnodar, Nazi bastion and rail junction on the Kharkov-Dnieperopetrovsk railway today as the German high command admitted the evacuation of Bryansk, defense pivot 210 miles southwest of Moscow.

London, Sept. 17 (AP)—A large force of RAF bombers swept deep into southeastern France last night to make a concentrated attack on enemy railway stations at Modane on the French-Italian frontier. It was announced today, and Mosquitoes again hit Berlin. Big, home-based British Lancasters, striking directly at enemy efforts to rush reinforcements into the Italian battlegrounds, also made a low level attack on the Antheor viaduct near St. Raphael on the French Riviera route.

London, Sept. 17 (AP)—Rear Admiral Howard L. Vickery of the United States Maritime Commission said today the building of Liberty ships will be tapered off in favor of launch-

FDR TELLS OF BIG BLOWS TO BE GIVEN AXIS

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that "specific and precise" plans have been made for great, new blows at Germany and Japan, including "definite times and places for other landings on the continent of Europe and elsewhere."

In a war review sent to Congress, the Commander-in-Chief said Hitler has left "vulnerable spots in the wall of the so-called fortress—which we shall point out to him in due time."

But the blunt fact is, he said, that we are a long way from victory in any major theatre of the war, and there can be no let down anywhere. "We face in the Orient, a long and difficult fight," he warned. "We must be prepared for heavy losses in winning that fight. The power of Japan will not collapse until it has been literally pounded into the dust. It would be the utmost folly for us to try to pretend otherwise."

Balkan Invasion?
In discussing the European phase of the conflict, Mr. Roosevelt gave a possible hint that the Balkans may be the scene of one new thrust—and that in the immediate future. Reporting "definite information" of unrest and a growing desire for peace in Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria, as well as in Finland in northern Europe, he said:

"We hope that in these nations the spirit of revolt against Nazi dominance which commenced in Italy will burst into flame and become a consuming fire."

Perhaps significantly, he did not urge the people of those nations to delay any longer the hour of their revolution.

His 6,000-word review fitted all the pieces of current war developments into a single pattern of global strategy and he spoke confidently of victory even as he warned that it is yet still distant.

Nonetheless, he said, the time is here to begin planning and even legislating for the demobilization of the armed forces to provide their millions of members with greater economic protection and educational opportunities and he spoke, too, of the necessity of seeking now to establish "fair international relationships" on a permanent basis.

Can't Trust Japan

"The policy of the good neighbor has shown such success in the hemisphere of the Americas," he said, "that its extension to the whole world seems to be the next logical step."

In other statements looking to the war's end, the President said: "When Hitler and the Nazis go out the Prussian military clique must go with them. The war-breeding gangs of militarists must be rooted out of Germany—and out of Japan—if we are to have any real assurance of future peace. . . ."

"It goes without saying that when Japan surrenders, the United Nations will never again let her have authority over the islands which were mandated to her by the League of Nations. Japan obviously is not to be trusted. And the same thing holds good in the case of the vast territories which Japan has stolen from China long before this war began."

Piper Cub Was First At Salamaua

With Allied Forces at Salamaua, New Guinea, Sept. 17 (Delayed) (AP)—A Grasshopper plane (Piper Cub) was the first plane to reach the Salamaua airstrip after its seizure by the Allies this week.

It dodged a wrecked Japanese Zero, landed gingerly on the bomb-cratered pocked runway and out stepped Lt. Col. Gerald Cochran of Portland, Oregon, who said he took keen delight in landing on the strip as Australian and American troops approached it.

ing 1,000 faster Victory ships by the end of 1944, with an eye toward post-war maritime trade. Victory described the new Victory ship as capable of 16 to 17½ knots as against the Liberty ships' speed of 11 knots.

At the Swiss Italian Frontier, Sept. 17 (AP)—German authorities were reported today to be rounding up all Allied prisoners released in Italy after the capitulation of the Pietro Badoglio government and to have ordered all Italian troops to report for duty in the German army.

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Isolated by German invasion armies for two years, the ingenious fighting patriots of Yugoslavia have established direct radio contact with the United States.

The first messages from the guerrilla-operated station tell of "great excitement" in the Balkans over the Allied drive into neighboring Italy.

Dale, associate mileage rationing representative, "ration boards are being asked to completely review all supplemental, fleet and non-highway rations. It will mean paring them down to the absolute minimum and in many instances revoking completely the rations to which persons are not entitled."

"It is unlikely that any extra gasoline brought into the shortage area by the 'Big Inch' pipe line will permit extra gasoline for civilians."

"Dale said the campaign would cover the entire eastern seacoast shortage area."

loading of a freight car, which hauled away 15 tons of cans from Adams county to a processing plant, because the cans either had labels on them or were dirty. Cans which have held paint, varnish and similar substances cannot be used by de-tinning plants and are not acceptable.

A report on the meeting at Harrisburg was presented this morning by the county's representative to the session, Mr. Corle. Adams county's scrap quota in the new salvage drive beginning October 1 has been set at 1,050 tons, he stated.

Higher Quota

The new tin can salvage is an increase of one-half can per capita per month, with the average number of cans turned in throughout Pennsylvania up to the present time being 1½ cans a month per capita. The per capita use of cans is six a month.

Arrangements are being made to have all of the schools of the county act as collection agencies for tin can salvage and state highway trucks will be employed to pick up the cans from the various schools, Corle said.

Householders no longer need cut the lids completely off the tin cans when processing them. The lids may be cut three-quarters of the way around, leaving about ¼ of an inch fastened to the can and then pushed back into the can before flattening. Before this the lids had to be entirely removed before being placed in the can. The new system will prevent danger of the housewife cutting herself while removing and replacing the lid, it was explained.

Dr. Anson Hamm, chairman of the Chamber's board of directors and principal of the Fairfield schools, served as chairman of the committee on arrangements for Thursday evening's dinner.

The meal was served by members of the Mite society of the Lutheran church of Fairfield. The affair was held in St. Mary's Catholic church grove, near Fairfield.

Fairfield's first shoe factory began operations under Mr. Beaudin's supervision last May 18 and has been in continual operation since that time. Twenty persons are employed now but additional machinery is being installed that will boost the number of workers to 100 next month, it was stated today.

tremendous goal of $15,000,000,000. This was "Back Salerno" Day in the campaign, and Treasury officials expressed hope for a third successive $2,000,000,000 accounting by nightfall. Secretary Morgenthau scheduled another progress report in a nation wide radio address (Blue network) from St. Louis at 10:15 o'clock (EWT) tonight.

Meanwhile, state rankings based on day-old reports underwent a drastic shakeup, with Rhode Island jumping to the front on the basis of 57 per cent of its $81,000,000 quota already subscribed.

Pollowing were Utah with 52 per cent of its $41,000,000 goal, and Delaware 47 per cent of $49,000,000.

More Coupons Than Gas, Oilman Says

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—The reason for "no gas" signs on service stations in the east, according to Harvey D. Carter, new supply director for the Petroleum Administration for War:

"More coupons have been issued than we have gasoline with which to redeem them."

Carter told the Empire State Petroleum Association, Inc., convention yesterday that the PAW "has supplied all the gasoline we said we would supply to district one" which includes eastern seaboard states and the District of Columbia.

"DENATURALIZED"

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—German-born Christian Muller, 43, who did not file an answer to the government's petition charging that he claimed to know Hitler personally and thought him "a swell fellow," was denaturalized in a "default" decree issued yesterday by the U. S. District court.

DELONE ELEVEN PLAYS SUNDAY IN BALTIMORE

"Jake" Dracha's Delone Catholic high gridders of McSherrystown will open their 1943 football campaign Sunday afternoon by meeting Mt. St. Joseph's high school at Baltimore.

Delone will be represented by a comparatively heavy team this season, 10 members of which earned letters last year.

Indications point to a strong line and a capable backfield which also packs weight. However, Coach Dracha is short in experienced replacements for his ball-toters.

John Folmer, husky fullback, was elected captain of the team this week. He will call the signals and do a considerable portion of the ball carrying and punting.

Two Injured
The Squires recently received a jolt when "Hen" Noel, halfback, received a broken collarbone. Joe Murren, another back, is on the sidelines with a bruised heel but may see action on Sunday.

The starting lineup on Sunday will probably include nine lettermen, six of which will be on the line. Coach Dracha has indicated he will start Desch and Oscar Keefe at ends; "Jardy" Lawrence and George Reese, tackles; "Web" Staub and "Nub" Rider, guards, and "Nick" McMaster, center. All except Desch earned letters last year.

In addition to Folmer the backfield will include Bill Noel at quarter, Bernard Funk and either Murren or Rinehart at halfbacks. Folmer, Funk and Murren are also lettermen.

A squad of 35 candidates has been working out under the direction of Coach Dracha and his new assistant, Theron Neiderer. Most promising of the candidates are Kaiser and Stumbaugh, tackles, and Murphy and Maloney, guards.

Foe Looms Strong
Neiderer became line coach at Delone when "Pete" Beeson, Gettysburg college assistant coach, found it impossible to assist due to his duties at the college.

In meeting Mt. St. Joseph's, Delone will be clashing with a school that has an enrollment of approximately 1,000 boys. Last year the Mount was runner-up for the Baltimore Catholic high championship.

Sunday's game will be played on Gibbon's field in the 4400-block of Frederick avenue, Baltimore.

LUCKMAN HURLS BEARS TO WIN

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—The good right arm of Sid Luckman still throws passes with uncanny accuracy for the Chicago Bears—but the Philadelphia Eagles-Pittsburgh Steelers have a little halfback named Johnny Butler who is bidding for an equal share of the pro football spotlight.

Two of the former Columbia tosser's long ones—68 and 76 yards in that order—set up the Bruins' first two touchdowns in their 20-7 exhibition triumph at Shibe Park last night and his 13-yard lob in the final period netted the third.

Butler, however, who received the Robert J. French Memorial trophy memorializing the late executive sports editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, carried the ball 83 yards in 15 tries—an average of 2.6 yards better than the Bruins' top ground-gainer, Bill Osmanski.

A crowd of 31,000 saw the contest, sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities, Inc., and bought $364,150 in war bonds at an auction between the halves.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Still 18 days to go before the World Series and the Yanks have sold all the reserved seats at the stadium—proving that there's no lack of baseball interest here even though the Giants won't match even the Phillies at the gate this year. . . . George Krehbiel of the Detroit News became the leading money winner among racing writers recently when his colt, Golden Man, won a $7,500 stakes race at the Detroit Fair grounds. . . . Now, who is the biggest loser? . . . The Los Angeles Angels won the Pacific Coast league pennant and Milwaukee is about to cop the American association flag, both under the management of men who used to be in the Cubs' organization—which affords good ammunition to scribes who are sniping at the "James boys," Wilson and Gallagher.

TECH STUDENTS DEMAND TEAM; PLAY 5 GAMES

By ARDEN SKIDMORE
Pittsburgh, Sept. 17 (AP)—Carnegie Tech, which once had to recruit players for its power elevens, is having a football team this fall because the players themselves recruited one.

Otherwise, the Skibos likely would have been on the shelf for the duration, too. They were left without a single coach when Eddie Baker joined the Navy and his two assistants, Joe Skladany and Al Irwin, took jobs in war plants. As late as September a coach still hadn't been hired and the matter of securing a schedule of games was like beating Pitt.

"But there were a lot of kids on the campus who wanted a team and let us know about it in no uncertain way," said Max Hannum, who acts as chief deputy to Athletic Director Clarence (Buddy) Overend. "That's the big reason we're having one."

Skladany to Coach
Accompanying student interest in a team was the disclosure that Skladany, one-time Pitt end under Jock Sutherland, would be able to coach it if Tech's practices were moved up, say, to around 6 or 7 o'clock. This was arranged.

The bulk of the squad of 45 consists of freshmen and many upper classmen who have never been out for football before.

"We may have a fair first team with few replacements," said Sklad-

Eye trouble, not the fact that he had lost the batting title Lou Novickoff held the year before, accounted for his .249 average at Columbus last year. Currently hitting .291. The Daytona Beach, Florida, ball park, where Klein got his pro start, was taken over by the WACS. Louis likely to take over any ball park with his whacks.

SERVICE DEPT.
Last month Capt. Olie Cordill of the Air Corps wrote this about another former Rice football star: "First Lieut. Dan Coffee is a one-man army and I hope to be able to tell you some of his exploits in the near future." . . . Two weeks later Lieutenant Coffee, who was in the tank division was reported missing in action in the Sicilian campaign. . . . After 17 months out in the South Pacific, its still possible to start trouble in one Army infantry outfit by intimating that the best brand of college football isn't played in the Southeastern conference. The unit includes Justin Rukas, former Louisiana State and Brooklyn Dodgers' tackle; Capt. Glen (Whitey) Weinman, varsity hurdler at Kentucky a decade ago; and Maj. Harry Shropshire, also a U. K. product who covered Southeastern sports as sports editor of the Lexington, Kentucky, Leader.

Other Hopefuls
Other promising candidates include Gail Litton of Hancock, Md., Bill Kind of Buffalo, N. Y., Al Ghiz-zoni of Homer City, Pa., and Tony Hurst of Marion, O., ends; George Salvaggio of Punksutawney, Pa., quarterback; John McIntosh of New Cumberland, W. Va., and Irwin Breier of Washington, D. C., halfbacks; Joe Wilson of Johnstown, Pa., fullback, and Sam Duff of Ben Avon, Pa., center.
Breier, who passes and kicks 'em from the portside, may be the spark of the backfield.
Tech will play only five games this year, all in October. The card: Oct. 2, at Rochester; 9, at Case; 16, Lehigh; 23, at West Virginia; 30, Pitt.

Natural rubber had been adapted to more than 35,000 uses before the war.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
The Wilkes-Barre Barons, off to a flying start in the semi-final playoffs for the Eastern league Governors' cup, must win their game with the Elmira Pioneers tonight—or else.

The New York team leads Tony Lazzeri's boys, 2-1, in the best-of-five series today, after trouncing the Barons on their home grounds last night, 18-2. Wilkes-Barre won the initial game in the series, 4-1, but went down to defeat before the Pioneers, 6-1, in the second battle Wednesday night.

Scranton and Hartford, tied at one game each in the other half of the semi-finals, were idle last night after moving to the Laurels' home for the remainder of the series.

Urge Open Season On Doves In 1944

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—Consolidated sportsmen of Lycoming county proposed to the Game Commission today that an open season be declared on Doves next summer in Pennsylvania.

A proposal to seek a bounty on red foxes in areas where the animals are a menace to game was referred to committee.

ROOKIES TO PLAY

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates go into an arclight encounter tonight with the Cincinnati Reds with two new players, Catcher Hank Camelli, who arrived yesterday and Hurler Arthur Cuccerullo sent word he'd be here sometime today. The battery came from the Albany Eastern league club.

any. "The team also will be light, averaging only 165 pounds."

The mid-section of the line will be formidable enough. Skladany has four lettermen there, including John Lindberg of Lima, O., and Cliff Mikus of Crafon, Pa., at tackles, and Ben Baklarz of Brad-dock, Pa., and Dave Crump of Bridgeville, Pa., at guards. Lindberg, at 200 pounds, is the only really heavy boy on the squad.

Other Hopefuls

By JUDSON BAILEY
The Associated Press

The pennants in both the National and American leagues may be clinched tomorrow and Sunday.

In the case of the St. Louis Cardinals this possibility is hardly unexpected, but for the New York Yankees settling the title this weekend would be moving up the date almost a week ahead of what appeared probable just a few days ago.

The Yankees have upset the calculations of the figure filberts by winning nine consecutive games, their longest string of victories since they put together 11 in a row in July, 1942, and now they have a chance to tie down the American league pennant mathematically in a three-game series opening tonight with the Washington Senators.

Need Clean Sweep
If the Yanks can sweep the three-game series, a single encounter tonight at Washington and a doubleheader Sunday, they will be "in." Shooting for this goal, Manager Joe McCarthy named his ace, Spud Chandler, winner of 19 games against three defeats, to pitch tonight.

Yesterday the Yanks polished off the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1 with a four-run seventh-inning rally climaxed by Charley Keller's 28th home run and second in two days with a mate aboard. Lefty Marius Russo pitched four-hit ball and himself made two singles, scoring twice and starting the winning rally. It was the last meeting of the year for the two clubs and gave the Yanks 16 out of 22 games with the A's this season.

If New York fails to nail the pennant Sunday the clincher will be delayed at least until next Wednesday because Monday and Tuesday are open dates for all clubs.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who clipped the Chicago Cubs 7-5 yesterday, might eliminate the second place Brooklyn Dodgers tonight, but will have to wait at least until tomorrow before freezing out the Cincinnati Reds.

Kuroski Homers
This is because the Dodgers had a game at Boston cancelled Wednesday. Thus the Cardinal "combination" against Brooklyn is two and against Cincinnati is three.

The Cardinals found the Cubs tough customers yesterday, however, and it took a two-run homer by George Kuroski in the seventh to settle the game. Each team made 14 hits. Manager Billy Southworth chose his No. 1 pitcher, Mort Cooper, to face the Bruins tonight.

In the only other games yesterday the Phillies and Boston Braves divided a doubleheader. Two homers by Coaker Triplett and one by Ron Northey helped the Phils to a 9-2 conquest in the opener, but Al Jay-

International Playoffs Today

(By The Associated Press)
After a day of rest the International league first round playoffs resume today. Syracuse and Newark meet in an afternoon game at Newark while Toronto battles Montreal at Montreal in a night encounter. Both Syracuse and Toronto hold leads of two games to nothing in the best-of-seven-game series and are hopeful of cleaning up in four straight.

MAROONS AND BIGLER DRILL

Gettysburg high school's Maroons and the Biglerville Cannons tangled in an hour's scrimmage Thursday afternoon on the Biglerville gridiron Thursday afternoon and coaches of both squads termed the workout as highly satisfactory.

The teams alternated in carrying the ball for eight downs while their coaches corrected errors committed. Two lads who had been performing for the second-stringers looked particularly good for the Maroons and showed enough promise to indicate they will see a lot of action. Willie Tonsel, halfback, and "Rusty" Howard, end, both gave good exhibitions. Coach Dry indicated today he was pleased with the work of the entire line.

Although the Maroons held the upper hand in the drill, Coach Smith's Cannons gave a good account of themselves and with more practice should develop into a winning combination.

Tommy Yost proved efficient in backing up the line while Clifford Brough was a worthy performer at tackle where he had been doing substitute work.

ery pitched a one-hit 8-0 triumph in the nightcap with Chet Ross collecting a three-run homer. Javery's was the 12th one-hitter of the year. The lone blow was an infield single by Ray Hamrick, first man up in the first inning.

RUTH MAY TOUR NORTH AFRICA

By TED MEIER
New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Babe Ruth, the "Sultan of Swat," may go to North Africa to give our soldiers in camp there a closeup of baseball's glamour boy in the golden 1920's.

This disclosure came today from a usually reliable source on the heels of a suggestion in Washington by Rep. Weiss (D-Pa.) that the presence of the Bambino would give soldiers overseas the "biggest thrill they've had since they left home."

Ruth, whose 60 homers in 1927 still stands as a major league record, was not available for comment, but it is understood that the War department already has approached him regarding a tour of North African camps and hospitals.

The War department, in conjunction with baseball's high commissioner, Kenesaw M. Landis, announced recently that two all-star major league teams will be sent abroad in the Pacific theater to play a series for the benefit of American troops. "The addition of Babe Ruth's name would be a ten-strike," Weiss wrote in a letter to Maj. Gen. Alexander D. Surles, Public Relations director for the War department.

GEORGIA LOSES STAR FULLBACK

Athens, Ga., Sept. 17 (AP)—Rose Bowls champions in name only, the crippled but plucky Georgia Bulldogs take the field against a powerful Presbyterian college eleven from Clinton, S. C., tonight to open a week-end of headlines in the 1943 gridiron parade.

Georgia's already weak squad suffered a severe jolt yesterday when George Papach, only player capable of filling the role of offensive fullback, was ruled ineligible, but the team decided nevertheless to make the best of it.

"I called the boys together and told them we had no illusions about our prospects," Coach Wallace Butts related. "I told them frankly I doubted they would win a game this season—that they had had too many bad breaks. I told them if they wished to do so I was willing to cancel out our entire schedule and call it quits."

To Carry On
"But I also told them it was the last opportunity for many of them to play football until the end of the war, and that if they wanted to play we'd stay with them and do the best we could. x x x they voted unanimously to carry on, and we'll play as long as we can put 11 men on the field."

Bill Poole, 150-pounder from Cocoa, Fla., was nominated to start at fullback in place of Papach, who comes from Youngstown, O., home town of all-America Frankie Sinkwich, sparking of the Georgia team that defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl this year.

The game, scheduled for 8:15 (Eastern War Time), inaugurates a week-end schedule which on Saturday includes such topflight games as Cornell-Bucknell; Yale-Rochester; Camp Grant-Michigan; Great Lakes-Purdue; Wisconsin-Marquette; Duke-Camp Lejeune Marines and Muhlenberg-Villanova.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

RADIO SORROWS

In radio they seldom smile
Or jest or dance or sing.
The women whimper all the while,
For life's a tragic thing!
The men are always running off,
Forsaking faithful wives,
The children all have whooping cough,
The measles or the hives.

My Nellie turns the dial 'round
And lists from nine to noon
With interest that is most profound To "Shattered Honeymoon."
"Her Seventh Husband" next she hears.
Since sorrow is the style,
They've run it now for two long years
And never once a smile!

The husbands flee to Timbuctoo,
For which I give no blame.
If life were shot with sadness through,
I'm sure I'd do the same.
The brothers and the sisters brawl,
Grandmothers, old and gray,
Seem full of bitterness and gall
And snarl the lines they say.

This life is hard in radio.
Romance is mostly grief.
Love is allowed at first to glow,
But, oh, the glow is brief!
Strange folks return from fearful pasts
New vengeance to wreak.
In radio the sobbing lasts
Five days of every week.

YOUR MENTAL BANK-BOOK

How big a balance do you carry in your Mental Bank-Book? What are the deductions in it? What return did you receive from them?

The only permanent wealth we own is that which we bank in our mind and heart. One of the commonest, and most usual questions when a man dies is this: "What estate did he leave? How much was he worth?" Material wealth, of course, is always meant by such questions. During the past year two of my most beloved friends have gone from this earth—"Bob" Davis and "Billy" Phelps. You will note that I use their first, affectionate name, by which all who knew them familiarily, called them. Neither of them, in his own right, left an estate of much material worth. But the mental and spiritual wealth of each was scattered all over the earth.

Sir Walter Scott, Mark Twain and Charles Dickens all had financial worries and serious setbacks but they bravely wrote on, and in their Mental Bank-Books left a great balance on which the entire world has since drawn to its great mental and spiritual profit. And the happy fact is that that balance will never be used up!

You who are forever trying to add something to the happiness of others or to enrich the world through useful service need have no fear of overdrawing from the Mental Bank-Book of yours. There always will be a big balance to assure you.

I have just read Edward Bel-lamy's masterpiece, "Looking Backward"—a book well worth reading at this time, and which has recently been republished after a lapse of over 50 years since its first publication. It has now joined the convenient "Modern Library" group of publications. This Utopian tale will set many people to thinking as it did half a century ago. More aptly so today, however. Read it and see how happily folks got along in a nation, and a great world—without money! They accumulated wealth within themselves.

With a Mental Bank-Book you need no clerk to take it to the bank for deposits and balancing. You do it yourself. And in a single day you can add greatly to that balance!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Noiseless Talk."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

J. W. Brehm Buys Lippy Building: Gettysburg will soon have a "tailor's row."

J. D. Lippy & Son have sold the Lippy building on Chambersburg street to John W. Brehm. Both are merchant tailors on Chambersburg street. Mr. Brehm is now located on the opposite side of the street in the Musselman building. The two tailors will be side by side. The transfer was made by Miss Mary Ramer.

Aspers Couple Is Wedded on Saturday: Sanford W. Weaver and Miss Virginia Rae Thomas, both of Aspers, were married Saturday evening by the Rev. I. W. Trostle in the Lutheran parsonage at Idaville. The newlyweds will make their home in Aspers, where Mr. Weaver is employed in the tile factory.

High Graduates Attend Normal:
Paul G. Trostle, North Washington street, and Ned P. Buoh, Water street, left Tuesday afternoon for West Chester where they matriculated at the State Teachers' college.
Both are promising athletes and expect to win berths on the normal school football team.

Gettysburgians Home from Europe: Dr. and Mrs. Karl J. Grimm and daughter, Miss Anna Grimm returned to their home on Baltimore street Wednesday, after landing in New York earlier in the day from a trip to Europe. They returned on the "American Farmer," which sailed from London.

The tourists spent most of their time touring Germany, but they also visited Holland, Switzerland and England.

Want 500 More Motor Members:
E. D. McNelly, field secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, attended here on Tuesday to conduct a campaign for new members for the Gettysburg Motor club.

The local automobile club was organized nearly two years ago and is in a healthy financial state, with about 250 members on the rolls. In the coming campaign, it is hoped to enroll 500 new members.

John W. Brehm is president of the Gettysburg Motor club and Miss Helen Spangler is secretary.

County Pitcher Weds Miss Frey:
Leo L. "Jack" Kane, of Arendtville, and Miss Elizabeth Frey, of Hanover, were married August 4, at Stevens, Virginia, according to an announcement just made.

"Jack" Kane is the leading pitcher for the Hanover team in the Blue Ridge league. He formerly played baseball in Adams county.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Frey.

Mr. and Mrs. Kane have gone to housekeeping in Hanover.

Formally Open Big Fair Tuesday: With enthusiasm running high, with favorable weather prevailing and with thousands of exhibits on display, the third annual South Mountain fair was formally opened Tuesday noon at Arendtville Union park for a three-day stand.

Injured in Air Crash: Operation: John Hartman, near Gettysburg, who was injured in an airplane accident at Chambersburg, July 15, has gone to Baltimore, where he expects to undergo an operation on his nose.

Helen Wills Is Still the Champ:
For the fifth time Helen Wills of California won the national tennis crown when she defeated Helen Jacobs, another California star in the final of the annual Championships by 6-2, 6-1, at Forest Hills, New York.

To Teach at Berwyn: Paul R.
Mehring, who taught at the Lincoln school here, has accepted a position as teacher of mathematics in the Consolidated school at Berwyn, near Philadelphia.

Joins Faculty of Western Reserve:
Dr. J. Rogers Musselman has accepted a professorship in the department of mathematics at Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio.

Birth Announcements: A daughter was born on Friday at the Warner hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hemler, of Gettysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carges, Gettysburg, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Thursday evening.

Personal: Miss Melva K. Heiges has returned to her home on Buford avenue after spending the past two weeks at Middletown, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Broadway, are on a ten-day motor trip through New England.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Keet, Chambersburg street, are spending a few days in Philadelphia.

Miss Kathleen Thomas, York

WAR IS ONLY
"BEGINNING"
FOR UNCLE SAM

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—"This is the beginning of the war, as far as the United States is concerned—this attack we are launching in Italy."

With those words, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau called on Americans Wednesday night to put aside "criminal" over-confidence in victory and to "back the attack."

As an example of war's cost in material alone, Morgenthau declared our equipment losses in Sicily exceeded 50 per cent in some categories.

More Drives Coming
The treasury chief, who warned that the Third War Loan drive now in progress will not be the last, addressed a nationwide radio audience shortly after the Treasury announced first-week sales of $5,059,- 000,000—more than a third of the $15,000,000,000 goal.

Emphasizing that he was speaking not of the present "critical" Italian campaign but only of the conquest of Sicily—"merely an outpost of the fortress of Europe"— Morgenthau said, "listen to what it cost us" in addition to killed and wounded.

The Allies lost, he said, 13 per cent of all 155 mm howitzers landed in the month-long campaign, 46 per cent of all 57 mm guns put into action, 13 per cent of all guns employed, 8 per cent of all medium tanks, seven per cent of all light tanks, 54 per cent of the carriages for the 37 mm guns, 36 per cent of the motor carriages for the 75 mm guns and 22 per cent of the carriages for 105 mm howitzers.

PLAYOFFS WON BY YORK, ROCKS

(By The Associated Press)

The Wilmington Blue Rocks and the York White Roses, overcoming any underdog complex they might have were in command of the Interstate League playoffs today.

In the semi-final openers last night the Rocks defeated the Champion Lancaster Red Roses 5-2 and fourth place York rounded out a 7-3 decision over the runnerup Hagerstown Owls.

A pair of Wilmington homers in the eighth by Dale Smith and Tony Parisse, each with a man aboard, overcame Lancaster's 2-1 lead and gave Lowry the edge over Gerkin in a tight mound duel.

York collected 12 hits from Ang-stadt and Rankin, most of them bunched for rallies in the sixth and eighth, to overcome an early Hagerstown lead. Fred Clemence, York's ace hurler, effectively scattered nine hits, and contributed two doubles.

The schedule for the second games of the best-of-five series remains unchanged for tonight with Wilmington at Lancaster and York at Hagerstown.

Name Author Of
"Praise The Lord"

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Navy made it official Thursday and named a 35-year-old chaplain from nearby Haddonfield, N. J., as the man who first used the phrase
"Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition" during the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The chaplain, Lt. Commander Howell E. Forgy, was on his first visit home in three years and the Fourth Naval District took the occasion to say formally that "the Navy department officially confirms for the first time" that the phrase was Forgy's. Its authorship has been widely disputed.

Baby Beef Is War Casualty

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 17 (AP)—
The baby beef is a war casualty in Iowa.

E. F. Gabel, Iowa 4-H Boys' club leader, said today only about 4,000 baby beefs—half the normal pre-war total—were being fed in Iowa this year.

Entry of the older boys into the army forces is the greatest single factor in that decline, in Gabel's opinion.

Flashes Of Life

NOT A VEGETARIAN?

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Frank Tarrant is Portland's nominee for the country's honest man.
In the street he found a package containing 150 pounds of steak, worth some 1,500 ration points.
Calmly, he stood guard until a worried truck driver came back to find the meat.

TOTAL WAR

Ogden, Utah (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Lowe, a timekeeper, hurriedly picked up her five share-ride passengers, drove to work one-handed, then worked out her shift—despite the fact she had a newly-fractured arm. Not yet set.

She explained:
"I've got a brother in the Aleutian islands who would pull the trigger with his left hand if he were shot in the right."

EGG FUTURES

Polk City, Ia. (AP)—The chicken house is keeping pace with the march of world events.

A leghorn hen on the S. E.
Hough farm has laid an egg the shape of the Italian boot.

At one end of the egg the letter
"G" is visible. That, says Hough, means Germany is next.

ics and arts of the tonorial trade.

She's Mrs. Maybelle Kleber, Alex-

Alvion J. Kleber of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. When Sgt. Kleber was transferred to Camp Grant his wife came along.

Before he had time to unpack his barber's bags his wife had a job

May Ignore Local Option Vote Mixup

Clarion, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—Folks in Callensburg, Perry township and Rimersburg were still chuckling today about a printer's error which had them voting for and against beer on Tuesday when liquor was supposed to be the subject.

So far, no one has done anything about the error, W. A. Walters, county commissioner said, and no official notice will be taken of the mistake unless one of the original petitioners complains.

Walters said another referendum could be held at next spring's primary and the result be made effective as quickly as the July, 1944, date, when Tuesday's outcome would have gone into effect. He added

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS!

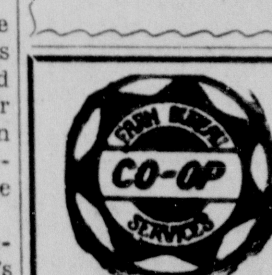

I want to express my gratitude and appreciation for the vote of confidence given me in the primary last Tuesday. That vote imposes upon me a duty to justify your confidence, and that shall be my aim both in the election campaign and in the office of Sheriff if I am elected.

Public sentiment in Adams County indicates that many fine Democrats will support the Republican ticket this fall and I hope to be able to do my full share toward the election of our ticket in its entirety.

I hope that you will feel that I am deserving of your continued support and confidence.

Sincerely,

JOHN E. MILLHIMES

COX SAYS MORE DEALS ON FIRE

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)— Comes now William D. (for dauntless?) Cox who, with a seventh place ball club, is rehearsing a "wait 'til next year" speech that calls to mind the old-time wait from the mourner's bench in Brooklyn.

The Yale version of David Harum, who has made more deals than a card shark since he picked up the Phillies at the National league's spring clearance sale, reports plenty more on the fire—"and some of them ought to be cooked fairly soon."

He should have cash in the till now, with a record attendance of 466,976 at the Phillies' Shibe park games this season; the club's gross would be in the neighborhood of $350,000 from home games alone.

What's he going to do with the profits?

"We are negotiating to build up a big farm system that will assure us good ball players for the future," Cox confided. "Although such acquisitions are hard to make in these times, there may be announcements along that line before long."

If there aren't it will be practically the first week in the Cox era that somebody hasn't been bought, sold, traded, fired or drafted.

Turkeys For Public
Promised By Opa

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—This country's traditional Thanksgiving meal, turkey, is not going to cost any more this year than last, the Office of Price Administration said today.

Announcing prices will not exceed the previous ceiling, an OPA spokesman said turkeys would go on sale to civilians next month, after an August and September prohibition of sales to permit the Army to purchase 10 million pounds for shipment overseas.

Trusties Escape
Chestnut Prison

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—
Two trustees employed in the Chestnut county prison bakery, were at liberty Thursday after escaping through a skylight last night in the institution's first break in 20 years.

The men were identified by the prison as Russell Mauer, 21, of Pottstown, Pa., a former soldier serving six months to a year on a larceny charge, and Samuel Ziemer, 29, of St. Peter's, near Pottstown, serving one to two years on a charge of criminal assault.

Prison officials said the men removed a bar-studded ventilator in the bakery, climbed through the vent and fled over the roof.

The break was reported to police by a woman living across the street

STARS RETURN TO PENN SQUAD

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—Penn
Coach George Munger had two reasons to be happy today as he drilled his war-ratified grid squad for the Franklin field opener with Princeton a week from Saturday.

One was the reappearance in uniform of 17-year-old Dudley Brundage, who still favored a knee injured Tuesday but appeared likely to be ready for action in the tailback spot.

Another was the steady improvement of Jack Rosenthal, Navy V-12 trainee from Newark, N. J., who, although scratched from the roster early in August, asked for another trial and, getting it, turned into a promising reversible end.

End Coach Paul Riblett said Rosenthal "reacts fast in any situation. He plays like Lou Warner, who had balance, good shock and that second effort that gets a player on his feet to make another tackle or block."

after she saw the men race across the prison roof before dropping over the 20-foot wall surrounding the prison.

A state police alarm was broadcast to adjoining states.

War Bonds and Stamps

Be proud of your war record—make your dollars—all of them—fight at the front.

Let's buy Bonds voluntarily TODAY and every day we can. Let's show our fighting men

LET'S GO!

HERE'S THAT INVASION YOU WANTED!

Now, let's get things straight.

"You don't know who I am. Maybe I'm your son, or brother, or buddy—maybe not. But I am the soldier who'll get the equipment your particular Bonds will buy.

"Do you get a new suit, or a permanent wave, or whatever it is you're looking to spend money on... or will you help pay for the tools to do this job for you?

"O.K. then—show me—Buy Bonds to the limit!"

You're in this INVASION. It's as simple as that.

Uncle Sam needs 15 billion dollars this month to pay for this INVASION...and there's no easy way out. If it's not a sacrifice, you're not doing your part. 10 per cent isn't enough—15 per cent isn't enough. Nothing is enough but every last cent you can turn into fighting War Bonds.

You're not giving, American—you're investing.

Investing in freedom, investing in a clear conscience, investing for future security.

And it's the soundest investment anyone ever made.

You'll have the money to educate your children, build your home, buy a car, when the war is won.

The least every American can do to put this over is to buy an extra $100 Bond in September. But that's the least—you can be counted on to do your level best, can't you? Get those War Bonds now—buy them out of income, buy them with idle, accumulated money—but buy all you can—and be glad to be an American!

World's Safest Investments

United States War Savings Bonds—Series E: gives you back $4 for every $3 when the bond matures. Interest: 2.5% a year, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity. Denominations: $25, $50, $100, $500, $1,000. Redemption: any time 60 days after issue date. Price: 75% of maturity value.

2½% Treasury Bonds of 1964-1969: readily marketable, acceptable as bank collateral, redeemable at par and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated September 15, 1943; due December 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. Price: par and accrued interest.

Six Miners Saved From Death Shaft

Harlan, Ky., Sept. 17 (AP)—Six coal-smear miners emerged alive last night from tragedy-struck Three Point mine after a 12-hour entombment caused by an explosion that dealt sudden death to their twelve companions.

The mine early this morning yielded the bodies of the dead, three mangled bodies being discovered at one tunnel entrance and nine others lying closely together not many feet away.

The three were found first more than a mile from the main mine entrance. Beyond this group, almost a mile further back in 12-left tunnel, were the six men who barricaded themselves against the deadly black damp in their fight for life.

The six survivors came out on motor trams, smiling broadly and with moist eyes revealing their unspoken appreciation for their rescue by crews of tireless miners who worked the clock around to fight through the poison gases to their cell.

Those liberated told a story of calmness and silent prayers, intermingled with jests and jokes to keep their spirits soaring. "We knew they'd get to us in time," was the way their spokesman put it.

"Oh, I see."

"That was this afternoon. While Mr. Billingsley was in court, I filed some papers. And there it was, just like it had slipped out of a folder. I opened it to see where it belonged." She shuddered. "That's all."

Brad frowned. He was silent for a long moment.

"But why," he asked then, "would he hide anything in the file case? That would be too easy for you to find it."

Jane shook her head. "No, it wouldn't. We use only a part of that drawer. The rest is filed with junk. Mr. Billingsley never throws anything away. Advertising circulars and such things go in there."

"Oh, I see."

"Fine." Brad ignored Black.

"Have dinner with me?"

Ten minutes later they were seated in Tony's Place around the corner.

"Mr. Forrester," Jane began when the waitress left, but Brad shook his head, grinning.

"Brad," he corrected.

"All right. Brad, did you know anything about Mr. Billingsley before today?"

At first she thought he was going to ignore her question. Something new came into his eyes for a split second, but he shielded it quickly.

"No," he said. "Nothing."

Why had he hesitated? Jane wondered. Didn't he trust her? Mentally, she agreed with him. Why should a Secret Service man trust a girl who was working in a spy's office, even though she was Ed Black's niece by marriage?

Their meatballs and spaghetti, Tony's specialty, came then. Tony's place was not new to her. She had been here many times with Joe and now she liked coming back. It was as though some spirit of him lingered in their old booth. She wished she were sitting there tonight but, somehow, she couldn't tell Brad about it. Being in that booth with somebody else seemed unbearable.

"Jane," Brad said suddenly. "I'm sorry I can't tell you why I'm here. I'd like to, you know."

Jane laughed. "No, Brad," she shook her head. "You wouldn't. You're just trying to make me feel better. Don't bother, I understand."

"Now you're mad," he accused. She shook her head again. He seems awfully little-boyish at times, she thought.

"No, Brad. I really do understand. I'll help you all I can, without knowing any more."

Impulsively, Brad covered her hand with his.

"I know you will, Jane. You're swell."

"Thanks," she murmured, withdrawing her hand. Why did he do that? she thought, wishing very much that he hadn't.

"You'd better not go any farther, Brad," she told him. "He might see you and get suspicious."

Brad grinned down at her. He thought she looked very young—and very adorable—there in the glow of the street light. Joe was a lucky guy, to have had the love of a girl like that. But Joe wouldn't be back.

"Righto, Janey," he said. "I'll call you up in the morning."

Jane nodded. "Okay, Brad," she agreed, hoping he wouldn't sense

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

YESTERDAY: Jane Carter, believing her boss to be an Axis agent, tells her Uncle Ed Black, publisher of the Chronicle, Black calls in Brad Forrester, a new reporter, who, he says, is a G-Man.

Chapter 2

"I can't go back, Uncle Ed. I won't. Not and help that—that—damned Nazi." Her tears had gone, only an anger that burned deep remained. But she felt better. Uncle Ed would know what to do.

"Jane, darling," Uncle Ed said, giving her hand a confident squeeze. "You mustn't blame yourself. You didn't know. But Billingsley can't go on."

Without giving her a chance to say anything, he jabbed at the buzzer on his desk.

"Send Brad Forrester in."

Seconds later, the door opened. Jane caught her breath. So Brad Forrester was the smart ace in the news room, was he? She acknowledged the introduction with a slight nod and listened while her uncle re-told her story.

"But Uncle Ed," she said when he finished, "shouldn't we call in the government men?"

Brad Forrester walked over and leaned both arms on the back of a chair and looked down at her somewhat grimly. "You just have, Miss Carter. Secret Service at your service."

"Now, then," Brad Forrester was all business now. "Tell me, Miss Carter. When did you find this letter?"

Jane leaned forward in her chair. A flush stained her cheeks. She hesitated, then:

"It was this afternoon. While Mr. Billingsley was in court, I filed some papers. And there it was, just like it had slipped out of a folder. I opened it to see where it belonged." She shuddered. "That's all."

Being in that booth with somebody else seemed unbearable.

"Jane," Brad said suddenly. "I'm sorry I can't tell you why I'm here. I'd like to, you know."

Jane laughed. "No, Brad," she shook her head. "You wouldn't. You're just trying to make me feel better. Don't bother, I understand."

"Now you're mad," he accused. She shook her head again. He seems awfully little-boyish at times, she thought.

"No, Brad. I really do understand. I'll help you all I can, without knowing any more."

Impulsively, Brad covered her hand with his.

"I know you will, Jane. You're swell."

"Thanks," she murmured, withdrawing her hand. Why did he do that? she thought, wishing very much that he hadn't.

"You'd better not go any farther, Brad," she told him. "He might see you and get suspicious."

Brad grinned down at her. He thought she looked very young—and very adorable—there in the glow of the street light. Joe was a lucky guy, to have had the love of a girl like that. But Joe wouldn't be back.

"Righto, Janey," he said. "I'll call you up in the morning."

Censure Tendency For Sunday Parades

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Presbytery of Pittsburgh Thursday attacked what it termed an increasing tendency to stage parade, sports and shows on Sunday in Pittsburgh for "worthy, commendable and patriotic causes."

A resolution, presented by the Rev. Clarence E. MacCartney of the First Presbyterian church and adopted by a rising vote, said in part:

"The Christian Sabbath has played a great part in building up the character of our nation. It is one of the pillars of that Christian civilization for which the nation is now contending on the field of battle."

The action came at the Presbytery's first meeting since staging last Sunday of the Hollywood cavalcade war bond parade and show, which netted more than $70,000,000.

The dimly-lighted lobby seemed a strange, forbidding place tonight. Jane welcomed the night watchman with a smile.

"Don't work too hard, Miss," he cautioned as the elevator cage stopped at the third floor.

"I won't," Jane promised, wishing that the evening was over.

But it wasn't. It was only beginning and there was nothing she could do but go on as though nothing had happened.

With that thought firmly in mind, she hurried down the hall.

"Miss Carter," Billingsley called when she entered the outer office. "Come in, please."

Jane swallowed her terror enough to answer: "Yes, sir. Just a moment."

Jane fought down a desire to run, anywhere away from the man who had sold his country down the river. But it was too late. Billingsley was standing in the door: He was frowning.

"Miss Carter," he said, "my papers are disturbed. Was anyone here this afternoon?"

"No, sir," Jane answered, her heart pounding.

Brad paid the check. They left the building that held Billingsley's office. At the corner Jane paused.

"You'd better not go any farther, Brad," she told him. "He might see you and get suspicious."

Brad grinned down at her. He thought she looked very young—and very adorable—there in the glow of the street light. Joe was a lucky guy, to have had the love of a girl like that. But Joe wouldn't be back.

"Righto, Janey," he said. "I'll call you up in the morning."

Jane nodded. "Okay, Brad," she agreed, hoping he wouldn't sense

"Have dinner with me?"

Ten minutes later they were seated in Tony's Place around the corner.

"Mr. Forrester," Jane began when the waitress left, but Brad shook his head, grinning.

"Brad," he corrected.

"All right. Brad, did you know anything about Mr. Billingsley before today?"

LABOR DRAFT GOES BEFORE CONGRESS SOON

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—The question of drafting labor for war jobs has been pulled out of the closet and is being walked around again in a slow dance full of the sound of groans and rattling bones.

Under a labor draft law the government could tap you on the shoulder, order you out of a non-essential job and into another in another city. You'd have to go.

Nothing happened after a labor draft bill was introduced in Congress last February and maybe nothing ever will. But the pressure grows as more men go into the army.

If Congress gets down to making labor draft a law labor will be in there demanding a voice in how the bill is framed for this would be the first time in American history we had forced service.

Without good safeguards the law could be explosive. It seems likely the Austin-Wadsworth bill — the one introduced last February — will get an overhauling before—or if—it becomes law.

Bill's Provisions

This is what the bill provides: Drafting of men up to 65 and women between 18 and 50—except those with children under 18 living at home—for war work.

At the same time the bill would not permit drafting of workers into an area lacking suitable housing; they would have to be paid the wages prevailing in a plant; the government would pay the cost of moving them, their families and their household goods and, when necessary, on their return; they would get their old jobs back after the war. If the jobs were there; they would have the right to join a union in a plant or to refuse to join.

But there is nothing in the act controlling employers so that they would be compelled to make the

MILK SUBSIDIES UP TO CONGRESS

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—An increasingly critical milk supply problem put the contentious issue of government subsidies up to Congress again today for the first time since the summer recess.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones arranged to go before the Senate Banking committee to outline the dairy production picture and to suggest, his aides said, the possible use of Federal subsidies to encourage increased production during the coming winter.

This would fall in line with reports that the Administration later may seek to obtain Congressional sanction for a general support price program to avoid the use of controversial subsidies in depressing food

WAR DEPT. SAYS ABBOTTSTOWN MAN IS DEAD

Lt. George J. Ensslen, Jr., 19, who made his home in Abbottstown for the last nine years with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Belle Hafer, was killed in action Aug. 31 in the Asiatic area according to a telegram received Saturday afternoon from the War Department by his sister, Mrs. Henry Landis, Jr., Abbottstown.

No details were furnished in the telegram. It added that a letter would follow.

Lieutenant Ensslen was born in Philadelphia. He attended grade schools at Abbottstown and graduated from the Hershey Industrial school in 1941. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps on April 11, 1942, and received most of his training at Santa Ana, Tulare and Lemoore, California. He graduated as an aviator at Luke Field, Arizona.

First Officer from County
The young officer was assigned to overseas duty last February and in July was stationed in North Africa. He is the first officer from Adams county to be lost in action.

In addition to his sister and grandmother, his father, George J. Ensslen, Philadelphia, survives. His mother, Mrs. Amy Wolf Ensslen, died nearly a decade ago.

Before entering the service Ensslen was employed by the York Ice Machine company.

Lt. Ensslen went overseas in February, this year. He saw action in the North African area, piloting a P-38 fighter. He was believed to have been shot down several German Messerschmitts.

The young man was exceptionally well liked by all who knew him.

FIREMEN TAKE $500 WAR BOND; ELECT MEMBER

Gettysburg firemen at their September meeting, Wednesday evening, voted to buy a $500 Series "G" U. S. War bond, thereby increasing to $1,500 the total funds of the company invested in war bonds.

The company netted $1,593 from the annual bazaar which replaced the usual food sale this year, it was disclosed Wednesday with the submission of the final reports of the committee that handled the event. The firemen solicited cash donations this year instead of foodstuffs with the result that more money was raised for the company's funds than by any food sale in the last several years.

The firemen elected Clarence H. Cluck, West High street, as a new member and acknowledged a $5 contribution from Paul A. Kinsey.

Collect Scrap Tuesday

The company discussed plans for the next general collection of all types of salvage. The collection will be made next Tuesday evening when trucks manned by firemen will tour the streets of the town and load all types of salvage materials to help meet this community's share of the state scrap quota.

Vernon Corle, transportation chairman for the salvage collections here, told the members of the company that he is going to Harrisburg this afternoon to attend an area salvage meeting.

President James B. Aumen, who presided, named this committee to arrange for a special activity of the company at Thanksgiving time: Emory Strausbaugh, Clarence Shindecker, George March, Donald McSherry, M. E. Crouse, Paul Oyler, John E. Storm, John Bowers, George Bushman and Richard Cole.

About 40 members of the company attended the session.

"Pal" Is Lost

If someone can locate the whereabouts of "Pal," 5-year old black brindle French bulldog they will make Barbara Anne Ziegler, 15-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, Springs avenue, very happy.

"Pal" has been Barbara's pal ever since he was six months old. They were inseparable. "Pal," incidentally, won third prize in a New Jersey dog show and was popular with all the children in the Ziegler neighborhood.

Two days ago "Pal" disappeared. The Zieglers have found no trace of him. Advertisements in several newspapers brought no results.

Slain Soldier Is Native Of County

Pvt. Wilbur H. Musselman, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Musselman, Hanover R. 2, whose death in Sicily was reported by the War department September 3, was a native of Adams county.

Harbaugh was born near Fairfield and moved with his family to the present home, Hanover R. 3, when he was about 12 years old.

The deceased entered the service November 9, 1942. Pvt. Musselman is one of a family of six children.

$50 GIVEN TO HONOR ROLL BY SOROPTIMISTS

The Soroptimist club, at its first fall meeting, Tuesday night, voted to pay $50 toward the county Honor Roll to be placed in center square. A $25 War Bond will be auctioned to raise funds for this purpose.

Miss Mary Ramer, welfare chairman, reported that 75 books had been received to establish a library for the Child Welfare committee.

Miss Ramer also reported that the material in the club's clothing center is depleted and asks that the public "give worn but good clothing for this purpose." Clothing is given to representatives of the local welfare agencies for their deserving needy.

Need Coffee Urn
Mrs. Frederic Grist and Miss Florence Basehor, reporting for the USO committee, stated that there was a need for a coffee urn for the use of the local canteen.

Mrs. Eleanor Oeschger Stanton, art supervisor in the local schools, and Miss Emily Allison, superintendent of nurses at the hospital, were enrolled as new members.

In compliance with a request from the National War Service committee of the Soroptimist clubs, it was agreed to assess each member fifty cents, proceeds to be used toward Christmas and emergency boxes of comforts for nurses on foreign service. The boxes will be packed by the American Red Cross. Miss Virginia Myers is collector for this fund. The club also agreed to pay $10 toward Red Cross kits for soldiers.

The fall conference of the North Atlantic area will be held in Camden, New Jersey, on October 23 and 24. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler was elected a delegate for two years, with Mrs. Frederic Grist as alternate. Mrs. Harry Ridinger was elected a one-year delegate to replace Miss Dorothy Brindle who recently moved to Hagerstown. Mrs. Buehler was appointed to the music committee in Miss Brindle's stead.

Meet October 12
The monthly drawing for War Stamps was won by Mrs. Buehler. Mrs. Ridinger is chairman of the September dinner to be held on September 28. The next business meeting will be held on October 12 at the home of Mrs. John J. Knox. Mrs. David Blocher, presided at the business session, which was held at her home and was preceded by a meeting of the board of directors.

REST ROOMS AT "Y" CLOSED; ASK FOR PUBLIC AID

The rest rooms at the YWCA building will be closed, beginning Wednesday, for an indefinite period "due to renovations and to abuse of the privileges granted the public in the use of the rooms," according to an announcement made by the members of the "Y" board of directors at a meeting Monday afternoon.

"Because Gettysburg has no public toilet facilities, an increasing number of persons have used the 'Y' rest room," the board announcement said. "This number has become so great that it has become impossible and beyond the financial resources of the 'Y' to keep the rest room in condition. Unless the town and county authorities will help in the project of supplying these facilities to the public, the directors consider that the rest room will have to be limited in its use."

Careless use of the "Y" facilities have resulted in considerable damage to the property, the directors said, and the resulting expense has been "too great" for the limited funds of the "Y" to continue such service unaided. The directors called for public support for their request for county and borough assistance.

GOP WOMEN TO MEET
The Adams County Council of Republican Women will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at the YWCA, it has been announced by Mrs. Esther Hayberger, president of the council.

COUNTY SEAMAN NOW PRESUMED TO BE KILLED

Glenn Allen Snyder, fireman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Snyder, Crouse Park, Littlestown, reported missing in action on August 9, last year, is presumed to be dead. Secretary of Navy Frank Knox notified the parents in a letter received Friday.

The secretary's letter said: "After a full review of all available information I am reluctantly forced to the conclusion that your son, Glenn Allen Snyder, fireman second class, U. S. Navy, is deceased, having been reported 'missing in action' on August 9, 1942, being a member of the crew and serving aboard the U. S. S. Vincennes when that vessel was sunk as a result of enemy action during the Battle of Savo Island."

"In accordance with Section 5, of Public Law 490, 77th Congress, as amended, your son's death is presumed to have occurred on August 10, 1943, which is the day following the day of expiration of an absence of twelve months. I extend to you my sincere sympathy in your great loss and hope you may find comfort in the knowledge that your son gave his life for his country, upholding the highest traditions of the Navy. The Navy shares in your sense of bereavement and will feel the loss of his sacrifice."

Glenn Snyder, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, was born October 26, 1920, in Littlestown. He was graduated from the Littlestown high school in the class of 1938. He took part in all school activities and was a popular and well-liked student. He played in the high school orchestra.

Snyder enlisted in the U. S. Navy in November, 1940, at the age of twenty. He received his boot training at Norfolk, Virginia, following which he was assigned to sea duty. During the year and nine months he was in the service he was home on short leaves three times. He was the first boy from Littlestown to be reported missing in action.

He was a member of Christ Reformed church and Sunday school, near Littlestown, and was a member of the Sunday school orchestra. A service flag which his parents presented to Christ church in his honor was dedicated with appropriate services on Sunday, April 11, 1943.

A memorial service will be held at Christ church on Sunday afternoon, September 19, at 3 o'clock. This service is for all relatives and friends of the deceased and his family. In addition to his parents he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ethel Horweld, Hanover.

EXPECT GIRLS TO OUTNUMBER MEN STUDENTS

For the first time in the annals of Gettysburg college girls will outnumber boys when the institution opens its 112th year next Thursday, according to a college announcement Thursday. The total student body will number about 300 with an estimated 200 of them being coeds.

The largest class of freshman girls the college ever has received will be enrolled Monday morning when the seventeenth annual freshman week opens.

In previous years the ratio of men to women was about one to three but in the coming term the girls will outnumber the male students about two to one.

Dr. Hanson To Speak
In addition to the civilian students, there will be an average of more than 500 Air Corps cadet candidates on the campus constantly under the Army training program inaugurated here early this year.

Registration of new students will take place Monday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted largely to a series of placement tests and entrance examinations. Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the school, will address the student body at the formal opening exercises, Thursday morning.

R. C. SUPPLIES CAMPS

Two-hundred and fifty hot water bottle covers, 16 pairs of curtains and a quantity of books and magazines were sent Friday by the Camp and Hospital committee of the county Red Cross for distribution to army hospitals and camps in this section. The covers and curtains were made by county women working under direction of the production committee of the county Red Cross while the books were donated the same time.

Four Persons Hurt In Automobile Crash

Five automobiles were involved in an accident on the Susquehanna trail near Jacobus, Sunday in which four persons were injured. Samuel S. Fetrow, Mechanicsburg, stopped his automobile with the intention of making a left-hand turn. Cars operated by Helen N. Wiest, York, Donald E. Miller, New Oxford R. D. 1, and Roy Pifer, York Springs R. D. 2, were also brought to a standstill.

An automobile driven by Bernard J. Glass, Thomasville, approached and crashed into the Pifer car and all the other cars were pushed against each other. Occupants in the Glass machine were injured as follows: Anna Staub, 14, laceration of nose and scalp; Elmer Staub, 14, laceration of chin and possible chest injury; Dorothy Staub, 10, laceration of upper lip and Archie Hoke, 23, laceration of right eye and contusion of upper lip. The injured were treated by Dr. G. Elmer Trout, Jacobus.

Glass will be charged with driving too close. Information will be filed before Justice of Peace I. W. Weinmiller, of York R. D. Private E. A. Hermesky of the state police investigated.

Draws $10 Fine On Fire Charge

Guy R. Fidler, Biglerville R. 1, Thursday evening pleaded guilty to a charge of driving too close and parking too close to a Gettysburg fire engine and paid a fine of $10 and costs before Justice of the peace John H. Basehor.

The charge had been laid by Chief of Police Glenn Guise at the direction of Fire Chief James A. Aumen following a fire Friday aweek. The charge was one of five laid at Cross while the books were donated the same time.

TOWN SELECTS NOMINEES FOR BOROUGH JOBS

By means of extensive "writing in" of names on both party ballots Gettysburg voters on Tuesday selected nominees for most of the local offices to be filled in November.

In the first ward Republican nominations for council appear to have been handed to Vernon Corle and Charles A. Beales, the latter receiving six votes. In the first precinct Beales and four others received two votes each but Beales received four additional votes in the second precinct.

Epley Nominated
The Democratic choices in the same ward are Councilman Harry J. Troxell, now a member of council and Mr. Beales.

In the second ward C. W. Epley, former council president, became one of the GOP nominees for council in the second ward when he received four votes. Fred A. Hummelbaugh, who with Mr. Corle was named a member of council Monday evening to fill a vacancy, piled up 217 votes.

The Democratic balloting in that ward resulted in the nomination of Fred Hummelbaugh with three votes and Ray M. Hoffman, a retiring member of council, with five votes. Two are to be elected in November.

Two For School Director

H. M. Oyler, current council president, received 86 Democratic votes in the third ward and with Harry E. Koch was nominated. Mr. Koch and Edgar Moser received the Republican nominations.

In the school board balloting, Mahlon P. Hartzell and Paul M. Rohrbaugh, won nominations of both parties. Hartzell received 651 Republican votes and Rohrbaugh 602. Rohrbaugh won the Democratic nomination with six votes. Hartzell got five.

More than a dozen names were written in for the office of high constable but the unofficial tabulation indicates Glenn Guise has won the GOP nomination and Victor Palmer that of the Democratic party.

The largest number of write-in votes were on the ballots cast in the third ward. On the Democratic ticket, eight names were written in for associate judge; seven for sheriff including four variations on the name of B. W. Spence; seven for clerk divided between various spellings of the names of B. W. Redding and Roy Renner and nine for coroner including seven variations of the name of Dr. C. G. Crist.

Handle Many Names

There were five men who received votes for councilmen, with H. M. Oyler obtaining 86; Harry Koch, 3, and Kermit Deardorff, F. B. Deardorff and C. Ray Rupp each one. Nine names were written in for school director including C. B. Dougherty, who secured three votes under that name and two others as "Chas. Dougherty" and "Chas. B. Dougherty," Clarence Steiner, who obtained two votes and Charles W. Jacobs, Charles Myers, "Art, Hutchinson" and "Dr. Gitt," each one.

On the Republican ballot ten names were written in for district attorney, 13 for council, seven for inspector, 10 for judge of elections, eight for constable and 11 for high constable.

Other results by wards and precincts in Gettysburg follow:

First Ward, First Precinct
Democrat—Inspector, C. C. Bream, 3; constable, Glenn C. Guise, 2; judge, Chester G. Crist and C. C. Bream, one vote each; auditor, Harry Troxell, one vote.

Republican—Auditor, John Hewitt, 159; judge, Anna Bracey, 21; inspector, Mary E. Naugle, 10; constable, Glenn Guise, 150.

1st Ward, 2nd Precinct
Democrat—Auditor, John Hewitt, 1; inspector, George March, 7; constable, Glenn Guise, 1.

Republican—Auditor, John W. Hewitt, 174; judge, George Bender, 11; constable, Glenn Guise; inspector, Carl Oyler, 16.

Second Ward
Democrat—Auditor, John Hewitt, 1; judge, Tyson Tipton, 3; inspector, J. Warren Gilbert, 76; constable, C. J. Myers, 20.

Republican—Auditor, John Hewitt, 208; judge, C. Tyson Tipton, 222; inspector, D. D. Kendeheart, 216; constable, C. J. Myers, 20.

Third Ward
Democrat—Judge, Elizabeth Redding, 85; inspector, Annie M. Cunningham, 105; constable, Clarence Crouse, 97; auditor, John Hewitt and George Raffensperger, each one vote.

Republican—Auditor, John W. Hewitt, 187; inspector, Ida Fisel, 22; judge, Ida Fisel, 3; constable, eight with one vote each.

Yake Defeats Butt For District Attorney; Millhimes And Guise Named For Sheriff; Oyler And Carbaugh For Associate Judge

"For My Daddy"

Little Miss Lynn S. Bream, 3, who resides with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bream, East Middle street, is the youngest member of the Blue Star Brigade, the woman's organization organized during the current Third War Bond drive. Each member must pledge to buy or sell $100 worth of war bonds during the drive.

Lynn has been signed as a sponsor for her father, Lieut. C. C. "Junie" Bream, Jr., United States Navy, now stationed at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, Navy Pre-flight training school. He is a graduate of Gettysburg high school and Gettysburg college.

DESPAIR OVER RATION FORM IS SUICIDE CAUSE

Miss Fannie Rager, 76, Greenmount, Gettysburg R. 2, was found dead Tuesday morning by Mrs. J. Plank, with whom she had lived since last Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Plank found the body hanging from a rafter in the attic of their home about 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, said Miss Rager had died about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning and listed the cause as suicide.

The suicide was apparently caused by inability to fill out a rationing form for additional kerosene. Pinned to Miss Rager's dress front was an envelope from the Gettysburg War Price and Rationing board. She had written on the back of the envelope, "My Dear Lord, forgive me. I thought I could get some one to fill it out for me. I had laid it away. Bury me at Apple church."

Sought Neighbor's Help

Mrs. Plank said Miss Rager had been attempting to fill out an application for kerosene which she used for a stove and lamps in her room at the house and had spent most of Sunday with the Planks in an attempt to fill out the questionnaire. Other neighbors at Greenmount said Miss Rager had visited them to ask for assistance in filling out the form.

The deceased either did not sleep at all Monday night and Tuesday morning, or else had made her bed before going to the attic.

A standing agreement had been made between Mrs. Plank and the deceased when Miss Rager moved there for Mrs. Plank to investigate if she heard no sounds from Miss Rager's room in the morning because of Miss Rager's fear that she would die in her sleep, Mrs. Plank said. When she failed to hear Miss Rager, about Tuesday morning, Mrs. Plank looked first in the room and then she looked through the house. Her searching led her to the attic where she discovered the body.

A number of nieces and nephews survive.

POST AUXILIARY BUYS $100 BOND

Enrolling in the Blue Star Brigade through the purchase of a $100 war bond, Monday evening, the members of the auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 of the American Legion dedicated their purchase to sons, grandsons and nephews of the auxiliary members. The unit previously had bought two $25 bonds.

Mrs. Howard Hartzell, president, presided and named these incoming officers as local delegates to the four-county council meeting to be held here Thursday, October 7: Mrs. Fred P. Haehnlein, Mrs. James Howe, Mrs. Erle R. Deardorff, Mrs. Mildred Shover, Mrs. Morris Gittlin, Mrs. J. E. McDonnell. The new officers are expected to be installed at the district meeting.

Mrs. Henry Lower was named social chairman and Mrs. James Howe, entertainment chairman, for the next auxiliary meeting.

KEPT IN 1A

Ray William Miller, York Springs, who was classified 1A by the New Oxford draft board has been continued in that classification by the area Board of Appeals, it was announced Friday at New Oxford.

Sheffer Wins GOP Race For Court Clerk; Horner Re-nominated And Shields Beats Spangler for Prothonotary; Taylor, Boyd, Rebert and Kane for Commissioner.

Less than half the voters turned out in Adams county Tuesday to cast their ballots in the "off year primaries" during which the county named its candidates for most of the county offices. The only state candidates running were unopposed.

The greatest interest was in the nomination for district attorney with the incumbent, J. Francis Yake, Jr., Esq., winning easily over former District Attorney John P. Butt, Esq., to capture both the Republican and Democrat nominations and thus virtually assure his re-election at the November elections.

Hundreds of written-in nominations held up the counting of the ballots. The first returns to the office of the county election commission at the court house were made by the first district of Mt. Pleasant township which finished its work shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday evening. The last district to report was the Third Ward in Gettysburg, which turned its completed count over to the county election board at 6:10 o'clock this morning. Only 10 districts had reported by midnight.

Wide Margin For Yake

The 7,172 vote was about normal for an "off-year" nomination primary election, political observers said. The county's registered voters number nearly 17,000.

District Attorney Yake won over Mr. Butt by 2,372 to 663 in the Democratic primaries and by 1,628 to 406 in the Republican primaries. Both had filed for the Democratic nomination and then ran sticker campaigns for the Republican selection.

$391,877 BOND SALES IN FIRST WEEK OF DRIVE

Less than one-fifth of Adams county's quota has been realized in the first week of the three-weeks' Third War Bond campaign, the committee tabulating daily reports announced Thursday.

A compilation of sales made on Wednesday, the close of the first week of the drive, showed that Adams countians purchased at least $33,062 worth of bonds. This figure, combined with the total reports announced on Tuesday, showed a grand total of $391,877.70 worth of sales thus far.

Thursday's reports, however, are not complete. A number of communities have not reported their sales since the inauguration of the campaign last Thursday. Some have promised to submit a report today.

A number of other issuing agents, not including banks, also have failed to report their sales.

Although the tabulating committee feels confident that county sales are in excess of the amount reported they are somewhat disappointed over results thus far.

$174,222 Short

"The natural impetus we expected at the outset of the campaign did not develop," one member said, "and for this reason the lag in sales appears to have continued. It does not constitute a representative showing for Adams county. We felt certain that we would have reached the $800,000 mark during the first week's campaign, but our figures show that we have failed to reach half that amount. Unless there is a decided change and an outpouring of bond-buyers, it does not appear at this time that Adams county will reach its goal."

Unofficial reports were to the effect that several large sales which were expected to be completed this week had not materialized and this added to the disappointment for committee members.

Adams county is $174,222.30 short of its $2,134,100 quota. To reach that goal $145,185 worth of bonds will have to be sold every day for the remaining twelve days of the drive.

Philadelphia (AP) — Pennsylvanians' war bond purchases exceeded $253,100,000, slightly more than 25 per cent of the state's goal in the Third War Loan campaign.

State Campaign Chairman E. A. Roberts said purchases in Philadelphia alone during the first week of the drive totaled $151,422,921.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyer, Biglerville R. 1, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Wednesday.

J. Arthur Boyd, Littlestown, and George P. Taylor, incumbent county commissioners won the two Republican nominations for county commissioners. Taylor secured the largest vote, 2,271, while Boyd's vote was 2,105. The nearest candidate, Mervin H. Renner, was given 1,581 votes and Chester Shriver secured 801 votes.

Carl W. Kane, Democratic chairman and Quintin D. Rebert, former register and recorder won the two Democratic nominations for commissioner. Kane secured 1,461 votes to 1,147.

Arthur H. Shields, Cumberland township museum owner, won the Republican nomination for prothonotary, nosing out Russel M. Spangler, 2,150 to 1,625. Shields will face LeRoy M. Wintrobe, who ran unopposed on the Democratic ticket and secured a vote of 2,088.

The Republican's four-way battle for clerk of the courts ended with Howard W. Sheffer, Gettysburg, securing 1,426 votes to win the nomination. Roy D. Renner, Littlestown, incumbent clerk of courts, secured 1,181 votes while George D. Sheely, New Oxford and John F. Grinder, Gettysburg, secured 531 and 827 votes respectively.

K

CLUBMEN HEAR APPEAL FOR AID IN T.B. CAMPAIGN

An appeal for public support for the war-time drive against tuberculosis, to bring our boys in the armed forces home to tuberculosis-free homes and to cure those who contracted the disease while fighting for our nation" was contained in an address by Dr. C. Howard Witmer, Lancaster, at a joint meeting of the local Lions and Rotary clubs Monday evening at the Battlefield hotel.

Members of the board of the Adams County Tuberculosis Society were special guests of the service clubs.

Doctor Witmer, who is a director of the National Tuberculosis Association and who was for many years in charge of the state tuberculosis clinic at Lancaster, spoke on the dangers of an increase in tuberculosis at the present time due to the increased strain of war-time living, and to changes brought about by war-time conditions. One of the greatest dangers of infection is in industry because of the different type of labor being employed, he asserted.

Worse Than "Blitz" One of the danger points is the employment of young mothers who "expend their energy in trying to keep their homes together and at the same time work eight or ten hours a day in the factories until they are so worn they have little resistance against possible infection by tuberculosis."

The "white plague" is more dangerous than the "blitz," he asserted. There were 45,000 English citizens killed in the "blitz of England," many of them children, but in comparison there were 60,000, including a great percentage of children, who died from tuberculosis in the United States last year, the speaker disclosed.

Of the men examined this year in Pennsylvania for service with the armed forces, 13,000 were rejected for having tuberculosis symptoms, he said. Of that number 2,000 had reached the active tuberculosis stage, Doctor Witmer said.

Urges Education

Public education including the Christmas seals, and education through industry plus the efforts of the local tuberculosis societies can effectively wipe out tuberculosis in time, he stated.

The Lancaster doctor urged every school and factory to make at least annual tests of all students and employees for tuberculosis as a "great step" toward eradication of the disease.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, president of the Rotary club presided with 60 Lions, Rotarians and guests present. Doctor Witmer was introduced by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College. Hugh C. McIlhenny, president of the Lions club, was presented. The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, a Rotarian, led group singing.

Yake Defeats

Continued from Page One Democratic nomination, but the write-in votes spelled his name in various ways and the status of those votes will be determined at the official count. Under state laws, only the court can decide that the intention of the voters was to vote for a given man if his name is spelled in several different ways on the ballot.

The official count of Tuesday's ballots will begin at noon, Friday, at the court house but cannot be completed until Friday of next week, the last day on which military ballots will be received. More than 50 military ballots were mailed from the commissioners' office but not all of them are expected to be used. Although some of Tuesday's contests were close, it is not regarded as likely that the military vote will upset any of the nominations indicated in the unofficial tabulation made Tuesday night and this morning.

Score of men and a few women who did not seek office were given nominations Tuesday—some of them by receiving only one or two votes. A new law provides that these prospective nominees' names will not be placed on the November ballots unless the "candidates" appear and pay a fee equal to the charge for filing a nominating petition for the office for which the person has been nominated.

Several county nominations—including the Democratic candidates for associate judge, clerk of the courts and surveyor—would be affected in addition to many of the minor offices in boroughs and townships.

Tuesday's vote was light with fewer than 100 voters going to the polls in 15 of the county's 42 election districts. The smallest number balloting in any district was in the second district of Hamilton township, where only 25 votes were cast in the 13 hours the polls were open.

"Y" DIRECTORS SEEKING OFFICE G.R. WORKERS

The Girl Reserve program and some other fall activities at the Gettysburg YWCA will be delayed by the current building improvement program at the association building on center square and by the lack of an office secretary and a Girl Reserve secretary, members of the "Y" board said after the first fall meeting on Monday afternoon.

The extensive repairs and improvements which already have been described by Mrs. A. H. Barr, house committee chairman. Personnel problems were discussed by Mrs. Howard S. Fox, chairman of that committee, while Mrs. Lila Craig, Girl Reserve chairman, spoke with the other members of the board about the problem of supervision for the G. R. clubs.

Mrs. A. R. Wentz, board president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Wilbur Plank conducted the devotions.

Committees Listed

The complete personnel of several of the standing committees for the current year have been announced as follows:

House—Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Robert Snyder, Miss Beulah Furness, Mrs. Frank Kramer, Mrs. Charles H. Smith and Mrs. Walter Africa.

Personnel—Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Earl Bowen, Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Mrs. Donald Scott and Mrs. John Pape.

Girl Reserves—Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Mrs. Robert Berkeheimer, Mrs. John Shanebrook, Mrs. S. B. Johnson, Mrs. John Klinefelter, Mrs. Howard Gaines, Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, Mrs. Violet Hill and Mrs. Dunning Idle, Sr.

Rotary—Mrs. Norman Storrick, chairman; Mrs. M. T. Hartman, Mrs. Radford Lippy, Mrs. Walter Danforth, Mrs. G. R. Larkin, Mrs. J. I. Burgoon and Mrs. Ralph Oyer. Library—Miss Margaret Myers, chairman; Mrs. L. C. Keefeaver, Mrs. Kenneth Hill, Mrs. Florence Grider and Miss Dorothy Keeney.

SCOUTS RAISE ADVANCEMENTS

Scouts in the Black Walnut (Gettysburg) Boy Scout district are advancing up the Scout ladder faster than they did in 1942, despite the fact that enrollment in the troops has dropped, according to comparative figures in the Scout Duffel, magazine of the York-Adams area of the scouts.

There were 66 advancements in the Black Walnut district during the first six months of the year, including 31 scouts who advanced to second class; six, to first. Five secured second class merit badges, 21 first class merit badges were won and three advanced to higher ranks of scouting. During the first six months of 1942 there were only five advancements in the entire district.

Fifty-one of the 129 scouts in the district are new boys who joined the troops since January 1. Last year there were 162 scouts in the district. The present scouts include 82 ten-foot scouts, 33 second class and 14 first class scouts. There are now nine troops in the district as compared with 11 on January 1.

PAIR CHARGED IN CAR THEFT

Local state police Thurs. afternoon turned over to federal authorities Raymond Haggett, 19, Hudson Hills, New Hampshire, and a 16-year-old companion, who had been charged with the theft of an automobile from Andrew Starner, Bendersville.

The two, who had been held by Adams county authorities since Tuesday, were released to the federal officials under regulations which makes the larceny of a car a federal offense when the car is removed to another state. A charge before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, Gettysburg, against Haggett will be dropped. The youths will be taken to York for a hearing before the federal commissioner there.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Anna Richardson, Oak Ridge; Carson Miller, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Clarence Hoff, York Springs R. 2, and Charles Wiseman, Idaville, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Linda Carol Malone, West High street, has been discharged.

Beer, Liquor Sale Approved Tuesday

The move by the dries in East Berlin to put an end to beer and liquor sales in that borough was defeated in a local option vote, Tuesday.

Residents of the borough voted 198 to 127 in favor of permitting beer sales while on the liquor questions the count showed 183 in favor and 142 opposed. The local option question was submitted on a separate ballot.

No other county communities exercised the right of local option at Tuesday's primaries.

College Amends Bill In Court

An amended bill in the court action brought by Gettysburg college in an effort to be relieved of paying borough and county taxes on the Little K. Aughinbaugh property, used as a girls' dormitory by the college, has been filed at Gettysburg by Richard A. Brown, attorney for the college. The property is located on Springs avenue.

In its new statement, the college states that the entire revenue from the building is applied to the support of the college, to increase its efficiency and facilities and for repairs and necessary increase of the grounds and buildings and for no other purposes. The college asks a permanent injunction restraining the collection of all taxes on the property while it is owned by the college.

COUNTY PEACH CROP IS PLACED AT 200,000 BU.

Approximately 200,000 bushels of peaches were harvested in Adams county during the season which closed last week.

Based on figures supplied by the various large growers and packing houses, the estimated figure is about 70 per cent of last year's crop, one of the largest the county ever had. The average peach crop is 302,000 bushels. But with the high prices prevailing this year the current crop has the largest value of any in the history of the county, growers say. The crop was worth approximately $700,000, nearly three times the average value of $278,590.

More than 110,000 bushels were produced or packed in the 16 establishments and large orchards contacted by The Gettysburg Times in making the survey of the county's crop. County estimates by leading growers and packers on the crop varied from 125,000 to 300,000 bushels. Fifty-one thousand bushels were packed by four of the county's commercial packing houses called by The Times. Fifty-nine thousand bushels were accounted for by the 12 leading growers contacted at the same time. In some cases the amounts reported by the growers however were for their section rather than for individual orchards.

MISSION WORK IS DESCRIBED

Members of the Women's Missionary society of Christ Lutheran church conducted a special meeting Monday evening to welcome Mrs. Hermann D. Hammer, formerly Miss Marian Fischer of Gettysburg, who with her husband and daughter has returned to the United States from Argentina where they engaged in missionary work for the Lutheran church since 1936.

The meeting was opened with devotions by Mrs. Ralph D. Helm, society president. A special musical program was presented. George Hersherberger, a senior at the Gettysburg seminary, sang "I Heard a Voice Praying" and "By the Waters of Babylon." Miss Lena Hartzell played two flute solos, "Romance" and "Finale." Mrs. John Sanderson was the accompanist.

Mrs. Hammer was presented by Mrs. E. S. Lewars and spoke of Lutheran mission work in the Argentine that combines evangelism and education. Predicting that there will be a marked increase in immigration to Argentina from Europe after the war, Mrs. Hammer appealed for more workers and greater support for the mission program there.

A social hour followed the meeting. The committee in charge included Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer, Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Mrs. C. B. Stover and Miss Kate Gilbert.

CAR RECOVERED

A car stolen from Andrew Starner, Bendersville, Monday afternoon at Flora Dale, was recovered near midnight the same day in Frederick, Maryland, state police reported today.

KINSEY HEADS USO DRIVE FOR $28,780 HERE

Paul A. Kinsey was named chairman of the forthcoming 1943 financial campaign of the USO during which the local soldiers' aid unit plans to raise $28,780.12 in Adams county. The appointment was announced at a meeting of the executive committee of the USO held at the canteen in Gettysburg, Monday evening.

Of the $28,000 to be raised during a drive to extend from October 15 to November 1, $2,000 will remain in Adams county for the use of the local USO. The largest percentage of the total amount will go to the National USO, the remainder will be divided between the United States Service, War Prisoners' Aid, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, British War Relief Society, Greek War Relief Association, Polish War Relief, United Yugoslav Relief fund; French Relief fund, Belgian War Relief Society, United Czechoslovak Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Norwegian Relief, Friends of Luxembourg, Refugee Relief Trustees, U.S. Committee for the Care of European Children, National War Fund Campaign and Administrative expenses and Contingent fund. The total national goal during the current drive will be $125,000,000, it was announced.

Two new members, Mrs. Ira Henderson, Fairfield, and Miss Florence Basehore, Littlestown, were named to the executive committee.

Mrs. Henderson replaces Mrs. Robert McCullough as Fairfield representative. Mrs. McCullough resigned recently when she left for a southern state to rejoin her husband, Lieutenant McCullough.

The system of having committees from the various church in charge over the week-end while the USO canteen is open for the use of members of the armed forces will be continued, it was decided. A group of women from the Presbyterian church, headed by Miss Anne Gilliland and Miss Anna Cairns, was in charge over last week-end. Flowers and home-baked cookies were supplied by the Presbyterian group, it was stated.

More than 100 soldiers and sailors, about half from out-of-town, have visited the canteen so far with each of the men and women asked to register and give his parents' names. A card is sent each parent stating that his son has visited the canteen.

Ask for Records

A request was made to all persons in the county who have phonograph records to lend or donate some to the USO. Donors may either leave the records at the home of Mrs. M. J. Flynn, Baltimore street, or call Mrs. H. F. Baughman if the donor wishes someone from the USO to call for the records. In that way the USO hopes to build up a library of records for the phonograph now at the canteen.

All persons who are willing to drive members of the armed forces over the Battlefield were requested to phone Mrs. C. H. Smith and state at what time their car is available. A large number of the soldiers from out-of-town have never seen the Battlefield, the committee learned, and are anxious to make the trip.

A sign will be placed in the canteen window similar to the one now over the street and another sign will be placed at the square to direct soldiers to the canteen, it was decided.

Dance on September 25

September 25 was set as the date for the next USO dance, with the Annie Danner club in charge.

An orchestra comprising members of the 55th College Training Detachment at the college will provide music for the dance to be held in the college gymnasium, it was announced. Girls planning to attend the affair can receive their tickets at the YWCA at a date to be announced later.

Receipt of a number of articles for the canteen were acknowledged with a list of the donors to be prepared later.

Attending the session were, Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the county USO, Paul Kinsey, Mrs. Frederic Griest, Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Mrs. Radford Lippy, Mrs. Grover Myers, Mrs. M. J. Flynn, Mrs. H. Steele Stuchell and Prof. Donald Heiges.

WM. I. SHIELDS IS DISMISSED

William I. Shields, Gettysburg, Adams county health officer in the state health department, has been dismissed by the department, it was announced in Harrisburg Monday. It was said that the dismissal notice was mailed to Mr. Shields Monday from Harrisburg.

It was explained in Harrisburg that the health department, under its merit system, does not permit its employees to engage in any political activity, and that Mr. Shields had affiliated at a political meeting. A successor to Mr. Shields will be selected "on the merit system" later, it was announced at Harrisburg. Mr. Shields has served about four years.

Car Damaged In Abbottstown

Damage amounting to $100 was caused to a car owned by John and Henry M. Kraft, Harrisburg, when it was hit by a truck in Abbottstown at 5:40 o'clock Saturday morning.

According to state police the Kraft car was parked when a truck driven by Charles W. Shoff, 23, Millersville R. 1, and owned by Morgan C. Dagen, Washington Borough R. 1, struck the machine. Shoff told police he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. State police are continuing their investigation.

BANKS BENNER IS NEW HEAD OF ASSISTANCE BD.

Banks E. Benner was elected chairman of the Adams County Assistance Board at a reorganization meeting Thursday afternoon in the board's office in Gettysburg. Mrs. William Arch McClean was renamed vice chairman and Mrs. Maude S. Saby was re-elected secretary.

Three board members, Mrs. Saby, H. Steele Stuchell and J. H. Weaver, and the executive director, Mrs. Verma Myers were selected to attend a meeting in the state office September 28 to discuss with similar committees from other county boards administrative expenses connected with the assistance given by the boards. Mrs. Myers was also allowed to complete her attendance at the Executive Director's Institute, a series of meetings which began this spring.

Mrs. Myers reported that the total case load as of September 1 was 664, divided into, old age assistance cases, 444; pension for the blind, 71; aid to dependent children, 88, and general assistance, 61. The number marks a decrease of eight cases during the last month and a drop of 72 cases for the year.

The meeting was the first for the new member, M. Stuart Danner of East Berlin. The next meeting will be held October 14, it was stated.

Have Full Board Now

Mr. Benner is the first nominal chairman the board has had since the resignation of James E. Aumen more than a year ago. Mrs. McClean as vice chairman had been presiding at the board's sessions.

Thursday's meeting also was the first at which the board has gathered with a full membership in about two years. Mr. Danner's appointment last week brought the board to its full strength of seven members. All members were present excepting Mr. Benner.

The members are Mr. Benner, Mrs. McClean, who presided Thursday; Mr. Weaver, Mrs. Saby, Mr. Stuchell, H. H. Reuning and Mr. Danner.

MAN HURT AS CAR, TRUCK HIT

Tuesday's voting indirectly caused a double truck and car accident in Latimore township about two miles north of York Springs on the Harrisburg road at 7:20 o'clock Tuesday evening. One man was injured, another will be charged with driving to the left of the center of the highway. Damage amounted to $200 as a result of the triple collision.

According to the investigating officer, Private George Ackerson, of the local detail of the state police, Clayton Shanebrook, Littlestown R. 4, was driving a truck owned by M. P. Florence, also of Littlestown R. 4, south on the highway. As he approached the Latimore township voting place he pulled out towards the center of the highway to go around a voter's car parked near the polling place. In the process of passing the car Shanebrook was said to have sideswiped a trailer-truck driven by C. Ralph Landis, Port Royal R. 2, and the force of the collision pushed the Landis vehicle into a parked car owned by H. L. Anthony, York Springs.

Landis suffered a laceration of the left shoulder. Shanebrook will be charged before a justice of the peace with driving to the left of the center of the highway.

Littlestown Man Faces Raid Count

George Scott, Littlestown R. D., has been charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore with violating the air raid regulations during the test drill held Tuesday a week.

The charge was placed before Justice Basehore by Chief of Police Glenn Guise at the direction of the Gettysburg defense council. The information states that Scott was in the Gettysburg post office when the red signal of air raid drill was sounded and that when he came out of the post office he was stopped by Warden John Bachensky who asked Scott to return to the post office building until the blue signal. Scott is said to have returned to the building and then walked out again, telling Bachensky, as he attempted to stop the Littlestown man that "I have more important things to do."

BIGLER ELEVEN AND MAROONS IN SCRIME TILT

Biglerville and Gettysburg high schools' football teams clashed for a practice Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on the Biglerville field.

It was announced by Biglerville officials that the opening game of the season with Juniata township, originally scheduled for September 30, will be played Wednesday evening, September 29, at Biglerville.

The reason given for the change was in response to a request made by the company supplying the temporary lighting system.

For the last week and a half Coach Roger Smith has had a squad of 32 members working out daily. Included in the group are four lettermen from last year.

Hold Scrimmage

On Wednesday afternoon the Cannons were given their first taste of rough work when a light scrimmage was held and defense on passing was stressed.

Coach Smith is optimistic about a good season. He has a comparatively fast squad and which will compare favorably in weight with other teams in its class.

Tom Yost, a guard of last year, is being groomed as a blocking back and will probably be designated to call signals. Dave Pitzer, a husky, angry powerful lad, looks good at fullback, while Clyde Lady, another letterman, is slated for a halfback position along with Dick Ogden, who possesses plenty of speed.

Other Vets

Herman Dixon and Dan Ebbert, both fairly tall, seem to have the inside on the end positions. They are receiving stiff opposition from Bill Jester and Leo Kleinfelter. Heading the candidates for tackle posts are Robert Brough and George Baugher. Gerald Heller, letterman, and Glenn Funt, are battling for center. The guard berths will probably be manned by Norman Lady, letterman, and Sid Myers. Clifford Brough and John Baugher are putting up a good scrap for guard positions.

At present the second string backs include Stanley McMillens, fullback; Jim Bucher, quarterback; Bob Sternat and Edward Utz, halfbacks.

SOLDIERS WILL SEE BALL STARS

By BUCKY O'CONNOR

Chicago, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Japs took to baseball a few years ago and now baseball is "taking after" the Japs.

It's going to transport a little bit of America to the service men who are slugging it out with the Nips in the Pacific war zone.

Approval of the tour was announced by Army officials in Washington yesterday, but the personnel of the two 18-men squads representing the American and National leagues has not been chosen. Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis said he assumed the players would be selected by a vote of the managers in each league.

While there was a suggestion that each club in both leagues have a representative on the squads, Landis said this would not necessarily be the case. His point is that the teams will be selected to give service men a taste of real Big League ball and should comprise the best available talent regardless of other considerations.

League presidents and club owners will choose the two managers.

1ST GAME LOST BY GIRL COACH

Salina, Penna. (AP)—Comely Pauline Rugh, the girl football coach, lost her first game 47-0—but she's not asking anyone for a spare shoulder to weep on.

"Don't worry too much about it," she told her Bell township lads, patting them on the back as they trooped to their dressing room Saturday. "It was my first game and yours, too. We were too inexperienced."

Someone asked mischievously if she might quit after such a bad defeat. "I should say not," she snapped. "I'm going to do my darnest to have a good team."

The Derry players—they weren't going to let any girl-coached team beat them—won about as expected. Bell, it should be explained, is a "B" class school in this western Pennsylvania hamlet. Derry an "A" class school. It was like pitting Sewanee against Notre Dame.

"In her own class she's going to give opponents a handful, and I mean that," declared Bruno Conti, Derry coach. "Her boys were very aggressive and really cooperated with her. They really snapped to her call for the pre-game huddle."

Home Runs Habit With New Phillies

Philadelphia, (AP)—Coincidence department.

PICKS YANKEES TO COP SERIES FROM ST. LOUIS

By JUDSON BAILEY

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Yankees are riding the crest of an eight-game winning streak, matching their longest previous victory string of the season, but the team is just coasting.

Ignoring the fact that the campaign has two weeks to run and they haven't clinched the pennant yet, the Yankees simply are taking their day to day business in stride and concentrating on the World Series.

In their clubhouse before the games the players are autographing baseballs by the dozens and striving to round up series tickets for their friends. Also before the games Charley Keller and Nick Etten, the heavy armament of the bombers, are taking special batting practice—not because they need it for the American league opposition but to get ready for the big test against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hits 27th Homer

Wednesday Keller hit for 20 minutes before most of the players were on the field and then, when the tussle with the Philadelphia Athletics got under way, he hit his 27th home run with two aboard in the first inning.

Arthur Beauregard (Bud) Metheny hit his second homer in two days and Joe Gordon notched his 14th of the season while Hank Borowy pitched six-hit ball to overpower the A's 7-3. Borowy had a shutout till the eighth, when he made the mistake of grooving a pitch to rookie George Staller, who socked it for a three-run homer.

About the time this was going on James J. Carroll, St. Louis betting commissioner and nationally known odds-maker, disclosed that he had established the Yankees as overwhelming favorites in the series, quoting 13 to 20 against New York and 13 to 10 against St. Louis. This meant a better must put up $20 to win $13 if taking the Yanks, or lay $10 to win $13 if taking the Cardinals.

The Redbirds, although idle, moved within three games of clinching the National league pennant when weather forced cancellation of the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers' final game with Boston.

Phils-Giants Split

In the only senior circuit activity of the day the Phillies divided a doubleheader with the New York Giants. Jack Kraus pitched four-hit ball as the Phils won the first 1-0 on Ray Hamrick's triple, but the Giants bagged the second game 6-3. The double bill started at 11 a. m., less than ten hours after the completion of the Phils-Giants game of the previous night, and drew only 903 paying customers.

Washington strengthened its hold on second place in the American league by shutting out the Boston Red Sox 5-0 on John Niggeling's three-hit hurling while Cleveland dropped another decision to the St. Louis Browns 4-2 through Al Zarilla's three-run homer in the seventh.

Detroit downed the Chicago White Sox 8-2 with Rube Gentry pitching a six-hit.

"Pooney" Carter On Louis Boxing Card

Pvt. Francis L. "Pooney" Carter, former Gettysburg high school athlete, will appear in the all-star boxing show to be held this evening at Fort Eustis, Virginia, when Sgt. Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, will be the feature attraction.

Louis, who is making a series of appearances at service camps, will meet his former sparring partner, Sgt. George Nicholson.

Carter recently won a heavyweight elimination contest at Fort Eustis and was chosen to meet Cpl. William Remil in one of the preliminary events.

Low Grades Hurt Penn State Squad

State College, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP)—Coach Bob Higgins of Penn State turned a thoughtful eye on freshman football candidates today as scholastic difficulties forced a reorganization of the Nittany Lions' forces.

Reports that many Navy V-12 candidates would be forced to leave the squad because of low grades brought the yearlings into prominence. Most promising freshmen are Marino Marchi, Glassmere, tackle; Mike Slobodnjak, Wilkinsburg, center; Al Olszewski, Connellsville, end; and Wally Alwoerden, York, tackle.

The common bullfrog attains a length of eight inches and weight of seven pounds.

10 VETS SEEK BERTHS ON OWL GRID VARSITY

By JACK SMITH

There's nothing wrong with Temple university's football prospects this year—nothing, that is, that 10 experienced football players couldn't fix.

Coach Ray Morrison already has the eleventh in Clyde (Pinky) Wood, a 5 foot, 6 inch, 130-pound back, who might be considered a veteran by some 1943 standards. Pinky has played before—last year, in exactly one minute of one game.

"Anyway," said Morrison, surveying the rest, "these boys look a lot more like football players when they're in uniform."

Show Promise

There's something in what he said because his candidates—numbering 25 do display possibilities. Besides, most are freshmen under the draft age and two others—Jack Burns and John Klesz—already have been inducted and, for physical ailments, honorably discharged.

Burns and Klesz, a 200-pound tackle, were on last year's second string squad and neither looks bad. Then there is George Heil, from Carteret, N. J., New Jersey all-scholastic guard last year, and Charley (Bob) Lange, a guard from St. Joseph's high, Philadelphia, who called signals last year for the titlists of the City Catholic League. Lange likely will be shifted to the backfield.

Brighter lights also include Anthony Hubka, of Perth Amboy, N. J., a brother of Gene Hubka, Temple's forward pass act last season, who went the way of most Owl's hopes and became a Navy trainee, stationed at Bucknell.

Old Tack For Coach

Frank Tack, from Holy Spirit High, Atlantic City, N. J., 195-pound Charlie Goetz, Atlantic City High, and six-foot Walter Hertzog, of Upper Merion, Pa., also seem sure of varsity assignments.

Looking at Temple's prospects, the form makers might bear in mind that Morrison is an old hand at starting from scratch. He developed Southern Methodist's first grid team, back in 1915, and some of his better seasons here have started out looking like a coach's nightmare.

Temple opens its season Sept. 24 home, Holy Cross Nov. 6 at Worcester, Mass., Penn State Nov. 13 at State College, and Villanova Nov. 20 at home.

MICHIGAN, IOWA PRE-FLIGHT TO OPEN SATURDAY

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, N. Y. (AP)—The Iowa Pre-Flight eleven, glamor team of early 1942, and Michigan, expected to replace the Seahawks in that role this fall, open their campaigns this week-end as the gridiron sport takes another step nearer the center of the stage.

Michigan, its own great collection of manpower increased by Navy contributions from Wisconsin and Minnesota, tangles with Camp Grant, 23 to 0 victors over Illinois last Saturday. Iowa's Seahawks, coached this year by Lt. Don Faurot, oppose the Illini.

On the same day Duke, which got plenty of Navy help from Wake Forest, Auburn, Georgia, Tennessee and Mississippi State, tangles with the Camp Lejeune Marines.

Yale Wins 13-6

This trio of college elevens may pile up some of the high scores which officials predicted for the coming campaign but which were lacking in last week-end's frays.

Yale had to go all out to defeat Muhlenberg 13 to 6, after Wayne Johnson, one of Harvard's better backs in 1942 but now an Eli by grace of the naval training program, suffered a severe injury on his first play. Rochester nipped Baldwin Wallace 14 to 6. Swarthmore blanked Ursinus 12 to 0 and Presbyterian trounced Fort Jackson 41 to 0.

Many Tilts Listed

In Friday night encounters, Central Michigan worked out at the expense of Alma 13 to 6, and Peru, Nebraska, Teachers downed Rosenbergs Field of St. Joseph, Missouri, 7 to 0.

It wasn't until the Illinois team was about to take the field that Coach Ray Elliot discovered he was minus five squad members. Four were ineligible because of registration technicalities and the fifth had received a summons from his draft board. Three would have been starters in the game.

Other games to be played this week-end are Bucknell at Cornell, Villanova at Muhlenberg, Rochester at Yale, Purdue at Great Lakes, Marquette at Wisconsin and the Lubbock Army Air Base at Texas Tech. Presbyterian's high scoring outfit tangles with Georgia on Friday.

The toes of the tree frog have adhesive pads which enable it to climb vertically.

Light Maroon Squad Shows Spirit During Recent Drills

There appears to be a definite shortage of manpower at Gettysburg high school where Coach Melvin Dry and his Maroon grid candidates began their third week of practice Monday in preparation for their opening game of the season Friday evening, September 24, at Carlisle.

Coach Dry had but 23 men on his varsity squad. So far the candidates have escaped serious injury in several scrimmages. On Monday the Maroons were sent through another snappy scrimmage.

As a whole, the squad is comparatively light, the heaviest man being Sammy Weaver, 175, tackle, the only letterman remaining from last year. Speed is one of the strong points of the Maroon squad.

While positions are still wide open, and will remain that way indefinitely, an indication of the team to take the field against Carlisle has been given in the lineups used by Coach Dry in recent drills.

Pat McLaughlin, six-foot three-inch end, and Eugene Fidler have been pairing up on the wing positions on one squad. Sammy Weaver and Charley Weaver have been pairing up at tackles with Dick Epley and Curwin Sanders at guards. Fred Haehlen is at the snapper-back position.

Fast Backs

Coach Dry has Eugene Timbers and Sterritt Dorsey in the backfield who saw action with the varsity last season although they failed to gain letters. Both are exceptionally fast. Thomas Small, quarterback; Bernard Little, right half, and Willie Tonsel, left halfback, have been working in as ball carriers.

On another team are Russell Howard and George Thrush, ends; Ira Dorsey, tackle; Robert Hess, guard; center; William Sperry, guard; William Troxell, fullback; Knox halfback; Reds Shaner, quarterback, and Milton Moyer, halfback.

The next two weeks promise to be busy ones for the Maroon squad. Although the outlook is dark, Coach Dry is hoping to pull some surprises with his new system and is being aided by the fine spirit shown by his entire squad.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

New York, (AP)—The hottest golfer in northern Africa at last report, seems to be Fireman First Class Herb Johnson, U. S. Navy... Corp. Howard L. DuPont of Pinehurst, N. C., relays the results of the first Moroccan open tournament, played Aug. 14, 15, and an amateur-pro event two weeks later. Fireman Johnson, former Hinsdale, Ill., pro, won them both... he shot 78-72—150 in the open over a course that "was built inside of a race track and up to two months ago was a camp for our troops" and playing with golf balls which, DuPont says, "some caddies at home would throw away as useless."... In the pro-am tourney Herb teamed with Victor Bellincioni, Moroccan banker, and they turned in a card of 65-62-127.

... Corp. DuPont seems to think the tournament committee, including Sgt. Dugan Aycock of Lexington, N. C. and Corp. Ben Banks of Dallas, Tex., did a good job—they even got the Pasha of Marrakech and his son, Si Ahmed Glagui, to play—but, he asks, why can't they get some good golf balls in Africa? Naturally, he's had no world series experience. Victim of the season's worst gag—the Phils are a "hungry" club because they haven't Etten. Ray Sanders, Cardinals: Split the job with Johnny Hopp last year and rode the bench during the world series. Hitting .270 so far with 64 R. B. JOHNSON BEST ROOKIE--MACK

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (AP)—It is the considered opinion of Cornelius McGillicuddy that the best rookie to emerge from this season's American league race is—surprise!—Bill Johnson of the Yankees.

Do you still hold with most diamond devotees that Connie Mack—to give him the name he made great—should have said Dick Wakefield of Detroit?

"You will notice," the soft-spoken A's manager will correct you, "that Wakefield's name is not among the leaders in the runs-batted-in column—but right in third position Johnson's name appears."

"Very few young outfielders have come up in their first year and displayed the same power to drive in runs."

Ken Keltner batted in 113 for Cleveland as a 1938 rookie, to be sure. Johnson—not to be confused with the Bob Johnson who "didn't want to play" for Connie Mack—has driven 87 home with more than 20 games to go, though he didn't turn the trick yesterday against Detroit.

"Wakefield," the 80-year-old manager commented, "is a good outfielder and has proved he can hit, but pitchers can fool him. They don't fool Johnson to any extent."

they thought it would be easier to deal with Texas' Roy McKay that way than on the field. Roy, who played a lot of fullback for three years, was assigned to the Austin campus by the Navy... Col. Heine Miller suggests that interest in service boxing tournaments can be maintained by eliminating the winners from further competition so as to give the less expert fighters a chance... looks as if the Army already had done that for civilian boxing... Tommy Colella, Detroit Lions' halfback, recently was discharged from the Marine Corps because he was allergic to 25 different foods, three weeds, two trees and feathers... wonder how he reacts to Redskins and Bears?

SKINNING THE REDSKINS

The way our informant sees it, you can laugh off those three pre-season games the Redskins lost... they couldn't do much scrimmaging with a 28-man squad, he explains, and they had to get ready in a hurry for the All Stars with 80 men... but Sammy Baugh seems to have recovered from whatever ailment was bothering him at the start and is hitting his pass receivers in his best form... The older players are just beginning to get into shape and when they do, they'll be tough. The Skins may lose Jack Jenkins, who looks good, but they have a whale of a defensive player in Wilbur Moore... Their only competition in the east should come from the Giants, who'll be a lot better than last year since the rookies seem to be coming along just the way Steve Owen hoped they would.

Munger, who vows he'll be satisfied if Penn gets through the campaign with less than four defeats, ranks Frank Sotack, formerly of Pitt, and Francis Kane, a Temple product, as the No. 1 ends, with Jack Rosenthal and Walt Bublun, Penn "natives," in close contention.

Back Injured

A gloomy development in the backfield situation a week ago was the injury of Johnny Makar, bullet-passing, long-booting sophomore. While he's on the sidelines for three or four weeks, his tailback post will be filled by 155-pound Dudley Brundage, a freshman, or Joe Michaels, who was Drexel Tech's captain-elect.

Regular assignments are on the books for two experienced vets—blocking back Bob Odell, brother of Yale's head coach, and wingback Joe Kane, who's no slouch in the passing department.

Johnny Small, a 16-year-old freshman, is "Mr. Big" among the fullbacks, with Art Vincent (Villanova Poly) and George Velling (Villanova) giving him a run for his money.

Penn opens with Princeton here September 25, and follows with three successive home attractions—Yale, Dartmouth and Lakehurst Naval Air station—before traveling to New York to tackle Columbia in its only game abroad, on October 23. The card is rounded out by four more difficult Franklin Field features with Army, Navy, North Carolina and Cornell.

Dudley Brundage, whose brother, Bob, was varsity fullback on Penn's last two teams, and Joe Michaels, a V-12 Navy student who captained Drexel Tech's last team for the duration, are fighting it out for the tailback spot as Penn drills for the season's opener with Princeton a week from Saturday.

Coach George Munger is giving both a chance at the position left vacant while John Makar recovers from an ankle injury. Michaels played two seasons at Drexel and, weighing 175, is 20 pounds heavier than his 18-year-old "opponent."

The final standings show, however, that even if a Hagerstown win and a Lancaster loss hadn't been wiped out because of the extra game the Roses would have finished in first place—by one percentage point.

The final standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Lancaster	83	55	.601
Hagerstown	83	57	.593
Wilmington	77	61	.558
York	73	66	.525
Trenton	64	73	.467
Allentown	35	103	.252

STATE ELEVEN TO SEE ACTION THIS SATURDAY

By ED CREAGH

(By The Associated Press) The second installment of Pennsylvania's wartime college football season comes due Saturday and, except that it promises heavier action, it's much of a muchness with last week's.

Two of the state's teams—Muhlenberg and Villanova in this case—play on Pennsylvania soil while a third, Bucknell, sees if it can dilute the Big Red of Cornell at Ithaca, N. Y.

Bucknell coach John Sitarsky plans to use four holdovers from last year in his effort to better Muhlenberg's out-of-state jaunt last Saturday, which ended 13-6 in favor of Yale.

Besides his own boys Sitarsky has three former Manhattan players, two from Temple and one each from Panzer and Hampden-Sydney—all Navy V-12 trainees.

Cornell Primed

At Cornell a Bucknell graduate, assistant coach Lefty James, has been helping drill the Big Red for their season's opener. Head coach Carl Snavely has a 187-pound line buttressed by 210-pound Ralph Calagni—Penn's co-captain last year—and a backfield averaging three pounds lighter.

Muhlenberg, which forced the Elis all the way, has been drilling hard in pass defense. "They're tough," admits Villanova's new coach, Jordan Oliver, who looks for "pretty much of a dogfight."

The Wildcats have a backfield surviving from the regime of Maurice "Clippie" Smith, now a Marine captain, plus a 200-pound fullback, Al Kasulin from University of Miami, and a Boston college expatriate, John Killeen.

Both Muhlenberg and Villanova count heavily on their Marine and Navy students. Anybody within gas-rationing distance of Allentown will be able to find out for himself which can count higher.

PENN OUTLOOK FOR CAMPAIGN IS UNCERTAIN

By HENRY LITTLEHALES

Philadelphia, Sept. 16 (AP)—Two former varsity ends who were "lost" when they enlisted as Navy pre-flight cadets and then happily were assigned to their alma mater may hold the key to the uncertain football outlook at the University of Pennsylvania.

Coach George Munger, starting his sixth season as head man of the Quakers, had given up all hope of utilizing the expert services of Herb Nelson and Frank Quillen, 6 ft.-4, 220-pounders, but the Navy sent them back to the Penn campus September 1, three weeks before the season's opener.

Because of their size and experience, the two young Behemoths now are listed as tackles. Nelson is a certainty at right tackle, but Quillen may have trouble ousting Les Zetly, ex-Muhlenberg star, on the left side of the wall.

Munger, who vows he'll be satisfied if Penn gets through the campaign with less than four defeats, ranks Frank Sotack, formerly of Pitt, and Francis Kane, a Temple product, as the No. 1 ends, with Jack Rosenthal and Walt Bublun, Penn "natives," in close contention.

RELEASE JARLETT
Pittsburgh, Sept. 10 (AP)—The news announced today that Al Jarlett, right-handed pitcher, has been released to Toronto outright. Jarlett was optioned to Toronto last year and recently was recalled.

WHIP-POOR-WILL
Even times and more it cries:
Whip-poor-will!
When the evening rules the skies:
Whip-poor-will!
When I've wondered what can be at disturbs him so, that he utters all in incessantly:
Whip-poor-will!

It till dawn this tumult ends:
Whip-poor-will!
It meant to summon friends:
Whip-poor-will!
It joy or is a fear?
Some awful danger near?
He deaf who ought to hear?
Whip-poor-will!

Is this cry I often wake:
Whip-poor-will!
Is his profoundest sleep 'twill break:
Whip-poor-will!
At I never yet have learned
Is love approved or spurned, Ince no answer is returned:
Whip-poor-will!

FATE
Like the way Fate does its stuff
And tosses 'round its darts,
While seeming blind sees well enough
To toy with human hearts.
And many leftwards turned, instead Of swinging to the right,
When other maidens they might have wed
Than those they loved on sight.

One stubborn man will stick it out
For five and forty years
And never see the girls about Till one by chance appears.
They bump upon a crowded bus,
A meeting long delayed.
He thinks her something glorious
And thus a match is made!

Some folks there are who scheme
And plan
To join two friends for life.
They know the girl who'd make the man
A most devoted wife,
But all the various schemes they try,
His lonely soul to mate,
Lack something of the method sly
Of what is known as Fate.

The wind removes his pearl gray hat
And blows it down the street,
A maiden picks it up, and that Lets two nice people meet.
She smiles! He smiles! And strange to say
To church that meeting leads,
For when Fate plans a wedding day
One chance is all it needs.

THE UNCONQUERABLE
Let the tyrant and the pagan learn
This truth, as soon they must,
There's no strength in man's dominion
Quite so strong as being just.
Let the Jap and Hun discover, as
Are very long they will,
There's no might in honest dealing
Than in power to crush and kill.

They have laughed at us for seeking Happier goals than they could find.
They have sneered at us for teaching
It is noble to be kind.
For the pagan and the tyrant never Yet have understood That ten thousand flaming cannon Cannot make an evil good.

They've no code save bursting Powder and no creed save that Of might.
In their teaching all is terror, with No hint of what is right.
But one fact they have forgotten,
Which is: force however strong,
Save it's based on truth and honor,
Cannot prosper here for long.

Tell the tyrant and the pagan, tell
The Jap and tell the Hun
They are destined for destruction
Although long the war may run.
Be it one year more or many, how-soever strong they grow,
To the side that fights for justice
Is the victory sure to go.

THE LAUNCHING

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)—Police arrested a man on a charge of intoxication and whisked him to jail in a shiny patrol wagon.

In court the next morning, the head jailer generously gave him a package of cigarettes, and the judge dismissed charges against the bewildered defendant.
He was the first law violator to ride in Santa Fe's new "Black Maria."

QUICK REBOUND

Kansas City, Kas. (AP)—Last November Errett P. Schirmer was defeated by two thousand votes, for county attorney.

Yesterday he was elected to Congress—with a 10,000-vote margin.

CONFETTI CASUALTY

New York (AP)—Who said there wasn't a paper shortage?
Sanitation Commissioner William F. Carey reports that the shower of ticker tape and waste paper that greeted Italy's surrender totaled only 22 tons.

Lindbergh's homecoming saw 1-700 tons of paper fluttering to the sidewalks. Wrong-Way Corrigan was good for 1,900 and the 1937 American Legion convention drew 2,500 tons.

ENTERPRISING

New York (AP)—Louis Adler, a landlord, invited 140 of his tenants to come to his office for cocktails.
Along with the drinks, Adler supplied informal patter on the Third War Bond drive. When the party ended, the tenants had bought $2,100,000 in bonds.

HE ASKED FOR IT

Stonington, Conn. (AP)—There's a young man who may hear from a mistake he made with a letter to the ration board about his gasoline application.
He asked the board please to act quickly on his case.
But somehow he got the letter into an envelope addressed to his draft board.

INQUISITIVE

Indianapolis (AP)—Back from a vacation in the Great Smoky mountains, Ferdinand Schaeffer, conductor emeritus of the Indianapolis symphony orchestra, confessed that he had tickled a sleeping rattlesnake with a branch from a tree.
"Why?" he was asked.
"Because," the 82-year-old musician replied, "I wanted to know what pitch a rattlesnake rattles in."

SWEET REQUEST

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—Child patients at Oakville sanatorium will receive 10 pounds of candy each Sunday until a $1,000 fund is exhausted.
That was one of the provisions in the will of Abe Goodman, Memphis financier, which has been filed in probate court.

BAD FOOTWORK

Cleveland, (AP)—Frank Lutanact a visitor from Homestead, Pa., ran out of money while fleeing three would-be burglars.
He told police he was accosted by the robbers in an alley and ran so fast he lost his right shoe—in which he had secreted an envelope containing $60.

It has recommended a moratorium on kissing for the duration.

WAR CRY

San Francisco, (AP) — Detachment of camouflaged State Guardsmen crawled through the brush attempting a second group of maneuvers.
But the attacking group became technical casualties in short order.
Three small boys, Jimmie, Bruce and Richard Wood, spotted them, and with a series of whoops and shouts, gave away their position.

THE HOME FRONT

Moscow, Idaho, (AP)—Pvt. Ernest L. Criot went through the Pearl Harbor raid and 18 months of campaigning in the South Pacific—and didn't suffer a scratch.

On a peaceful Idaho farm recently he was examining a rifle. It discharged, and Criot was wounded in the hand.

Dear Sir:

I want to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the members of your staff for sending me the "Times."

Several days I met Captain Joe Riley of Gettysburg. It was our second meeting since my arrival at this camp in February, 1943. Captain Riley recognized me before I was able to recognize him as on our first meeting he was then Lieutenant Riley. We had a nice chat together and we talked mostly about the boys from home that we knew and that are now in the service. I think that Captain Riley and I are the only Gettysburgians stationed at this camp.

I have been in the army over a year now, and since February have been with the Military Police and I find my work very interesting at times. I was recently promoted to Sergeant (T-4th Gr) and made chief clerk for my company. Last week both of my brothers went into the Navy so I know the war can't last much longer now!

Last week Joe Louis fought here and also Sugar "Ray" Robinson, so you see they keep us well entertained. Several days before Louis was here General Davis, the highest ranking negro officer in the army, made an inspection of both colored and white units stationed on this post. New York is a nice place, but there is no place large or small that beats Gettysburg.

I am always glad to receive the "Times" because it keeps me informed of where my other buddies are and what they are doing. I know that all the boys both here in the states or across seas appreciate reading about each other. Again I say thanks to you and to the members of your staff.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Joseph Penn Wansel
Detachment, CMP No. 2
Camp Shanks, New York.

"Somewhere in Tennessee"
Friday evening,
Sept. 10, 1943.

Dear Sirs:

Am writing you mainly to change the address of the Times which is really swell to get when one is so far away from home and wants to know the news back home.

We have just been off maneuvers a few days and we now feel like real soldiers after taking eight weeks of this type of life.

Our entire battalion is made up of Pennsylvania boys and they have proven they can really take it when we got an excellent rating on maneuvers and were the best gasoline outfit ever to go on maneuvers down here.

Our outfit will only be here temporarily.
Thanks for everything and am patiently waiting for my next issue of the Times.

Yours truly,
Pvt. Justin Houck,
Co. D, 214th Q.M. (G.S.) Bn.
Camp Forrest, Tennessee.

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for sending me the "Service Edition" of the Times. Since I have been in the Service I have enjoyed every issue. Being away from home, everyone enjoys immensely news from home. It helps so much in Army life.

Had I not been so very busy, I would have written sooner.
Mississippi is very hot—too hot. Nevertheless I have adjusted myself to the climate. Of course, there is no state like the home state—Pennsylvania.

As a truck driver, I have lots of fun. And next to mother's cooking there is nothing like Army mess.

Well, the bugler has sounded the call for chow. And so I must conclude.

Again, many thanks for the editions. I look for them with great eagerness and devour each issue with avidity.

Gratefully yours,
PFC. RAYMOND WILLIAMS,
Camp Van Dorn, Mississippi.

Dear Sir:

I am not much of a writer but I do want you to know how much I have appreciated you sending me the service men's papers. It is a real treat to read the home town news when I am away from home and don't meet anyone from, or near my home town. I not only can keep tabs on the home news, but I can find out where my old schoolmates are located that are in the service.

The Carlton hotel in Miami Beach, Florida, will be my home for the next month. It is a comparatively small hotel, three stories high. My squadron happens to be on the top floor.

The food situation here is swell although milk is rather scarce due to transportation problems. The mess halls are very clean and the food is well prepared.

During the present time it is pretty hot here. Even though we go swimming every day, we can't keep cool. Our hotel sergeant informed us that we will be here during the hottest part of the year.

Lights will be going out soon because of blackout regulations, so I must close.

Once again many, many thanks for the happy moments you have brought me by sending me the service men's paper.

Sincerely yours,
QAC James G. Fleck,
409 Td Sq. M., AAAPTC, BTC No. 4,
Miami Beach, Fla.

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to you and my many friends back in good old Gettysburg, to let you know I've arrived safely overseas and am now somewhere in India. It's not the best place in the world, but as long as we can get good American grub and cigarettes, things go pretty smooth.

I want to thank you for sending the paper to me while I was still in the states. It sure was nice to be able to sit down and read that letter from the hometown.

Now for a little more about this Army life. When we left Gettysburg there were 35 of us sent to the same camp where we took our training together. Then we were split up, but some of us were lucky enough to stay together, and as yet we are still together and hoping we stay this way.

I know you would like to know more about things over here, but it's better to say less than to say something that would cause some of the boys to be wounded or killed. So I'll say "So Long" and "Good Luck on the Home Front."

Keep things rolling to the boys and we'll sure do our part to pass it on to where it does the work.

Thanks again.
PVT. ROBERT WOLFORD.

Dear Sir:

May I take this long delayed opportunity to express my appreciation for the Service Edition of the Gettysburg Times which I receive regularly and, I assure you, look forward to eagerly.

For two and one half months now, I have been "at home" "Deep in the Heat of Texas." Am quite accustomed to the temperature, now, however. In fact, I believe it has been quite warm in Gettysburg this summer, also, has it not?

Although I had never heard of the Army Air Forces Navigation School at Hondo, Texas, until I was assigned here, I have found it to be an exceptionally nice Post, including our WAC quarters, which are really O.K.

Needless to say, we are exceedingly busy. Our day begins at 5:45 (when we are "rudely" awakened by the "inevitable whistle" and ends at 9:30 with "lights out" (if one is wise) or, more generally, at 11:00 (bedcheck). Never a dull moment, really!

News from home is vitally important to me, as it is to everyone in the Service, so for sending me The Times may I again say "Thank You!"

Sincerely,
Pvt. Ruth Kitzmiller, 743rd WAC Post Hq. Co.

Dear Sir:

I want to join the many service men who express their gratitude for the paper you sent us weekly.

Your paper does more than just give us something to read. It makes us forget the condition of the world and the place we're in and think of home—the people—the things we did—this is worth anything for a service man hundreds of miles from Gettysburg.

Your paper also keeps us a part of our community and gives us a grand feeling to know how the people feel about the boys who are in the service. I know they all try to do their best for us and everyone does do a grand job.

I suppose you have received letters about Camp Howze, Texas, from some of the other boys stationed here. If they said anything bad about it, it's even worse. Only one from Board No. 2 is in the same Company and he is Pvt. Robert S. Walker. Jack Lamont, while here, lived in the barracks directly across the street from me in Company B. We lived the same distance from each other for about a month and didn't know it until I met him at our PX one evening. I understand Jack is home now to stay.

My work here consists of administration work. I'm the company clerk for Company D. A few of my duties are: Payrolls, the men's allotments, care of the service records, transfers, furloughs, discharges, correspondence and numerous other things. A company clerk is known as one of the hardest working men in the Army. Often we work late at nights and occasionally, all night if we are rushed with work. The personnel officer worked for 36 hours straight last week when we had over 300 men leaving the regiment and all their records had to be completed.

The men in the field have been having it rather easy now and will up until October 15th, when small maneuvers start here and will last for three to four weeks. We are scheduled to go on big maneuvers in December for three months in Louisiana.

In closing I want to thank you once again for the paper. It's something I look forward to each week and I know all the boys that receive the paper will tell you the same thing.

Sincerely Yours,
CPL. JAY C. McLAUGHLIN,
Co. Hq., Company D,
342nd Infantry, APO No. 450,
Camp Howze, Texas

Dear Sir:

Over six months ago I left Gettysburg one Saturday morning in a snow storm and came to Oklahoma. Today Oklahoma is a mass of burnt grass. The lawns are dead and even the trees are drying up. For 32 consecutive days we have had temperature well over a 100 degrees and no rain since May.

You probably will remember the floods that we had out here in May. Will Rogers, a native of Oklahoma, in his glorious humor once said, "If you don't like Oklahoma weather wait 30 minutes and it will change, and he was quite right."

However, there was one exception to his saying and that was this hot weather. The hot winds blow over the ranges continually, so hot one must hold protection before their face or even turn the glass up in the car if you happen to be riding. It compares to that of our open oven.

One thing certain, the longer it stays dry and hot the more I wish I were back in Pennsylvania enjoying some mountain scenery and some good water.

I had the opportunity of talking to Major Richard Hershey some time ago, the only person I have seen from around Adams county since I left. Also, Capt. Taylor, from Ardenville, whom I saw in passing in Oklahoma City one evening.

Fort Reno is a remount depot for the Army. It was a old Indian reservation before the government took it over as a fort and at one time General Sheridan was its commanding officer. Today the Indian reservation and school is just four miles north of the Post.

I read in the Gettysburg Times about Adams county fruit being expensive this year and peaches selling for $5 a bushel and up. Well, everyone should be real happy at that—they are 15 cents a piece out here, and oranges are 75 cents a dozen.

The Gettysburg Times reaches me every week and I sure appreciate it. Thanks for sending it.

Sincerely,
LT. EDWARD C. BEARD,
Ft. Reno, Oklahoma

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to thank you for the paper before I go back on mess duty. We have a great time here. Almost every night we go to the movies. One day we went up to the lake to row boats. The food we get here is great. I have gained 10 pounds since August 6. I will close now.

Dear Sir:

The time is here again for me to tell you of a change in my address. I'm now at an advanced Army Air Forces Technical School at Tomah, Wisconsin. I graduated from the Radio Mechanics School at Trux Field on August 8.

I've been here at Tomah for only a few days and haven't started to school yet. Just working around the camp. Tomorrow I'm on K.P. and don't expect to have much fun. But I've done it before—plenty of times at Keesler Field last November and December.

We're living in tents here at Tomah. This is my first experience with that. But it's not too bad—yet.

I do want to thank you for sending me The Times. I appreciate it and it has been reaching me regularly.

Well, I guess that's all for this time as it's almost time for chow. I've really had good food here at the Wisconsin camps—Trux and Tomah.

Thanks again and thanks a lot for The Times.

Yours truly,
CPL. ROBERT M. REINDOLLAR,
1000 T.S.S., Class 11-B
Tomah, Wisconsin

Dear Sir:

Much time has elapsed since I have really owed you a letter and now I really want to give my hearty thanks to you and your staff for many enjoyable moments.

Besides the ever welcome home news, the Gettysburg Times helps us all keep track of our buddies who are being transferred every day. You can rest assured you are doing your bit for us all and we appreciate it.

This is also to tell you that I expect to be transferred on or about Monday, September 6. So until I notify you of my new address, please withhold from mailing the Times here.

Ever since I've been at this base, there have always been several fellows from near Gettysburg here. Several weeks ago another "mate" from near Biglerville looked me up. He will be here for sometime. I hope he enjoys it as much as I did.

For the best part of the past year I've been at Naval schools. As far as I know we are about through with schooling and all are hoping to get into something bigger.

Again I wish to thank you for the Times, and I hope it will continue to follow me wherever I go.

E. R. HARTMAN IS WED SUNDAY IN SHIPPENSBURG

Miss Jean Harris Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morgan, Harrisburg, and T-5 Eugene R. Hartman, U.S. Induction Station, Harrisburg, were married Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Memorial Lutheran church, Shippensburg, by the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel who used the double ring ceremony. Technician Hartman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Hartman, 5 Liberty street.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin, with an embroidered net yoke sweetheart neckline and train. She wore a fingertip length veil attached with orange blossoms and carried a white Bible from which hung white satin streamers and tapers. She wore pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Pague Harglerod, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore orchid taffeta with a sweetheart neckline with ruffle trim and a tight bodice. Her headpiece included a yellow rose coronet. She wore a pearl necklace.

Hand Best Man
The matron of honor was Mrs. J. W. Dittman, a sister of the bride, who wore chartruese taffeta of the same style as the maid of honor, and a yellow rose coronet. She carried yellow roses and wore a pearl necklace.

The bridesmaids included Miss Theda Eppley, Newberrytown; Miss Doris Kriner, Harrisburg; Miss Rhetta O'Shaunnessy, Shippensburg, and Miss Ann Palczuk, Williamsport. The Misses Eppley and Palczuk wore chartruese taffeta while the Misses Kriner and O'Shaunnessy wore orchid taffeta all of the same style as the maid and matron of honor. Each wore a silver Juliet cap and silver slippers and each carried an old fashioned nosegay.

Miss Joyce Mehrling was the flower girl and Master Perry Stauffer, the ring bearer. Lt. Robert H. Hand, Camp LeJeune, New River, N. C., was the best man. The ushers included Sgt. Joseph O'Neill, Corp. John Gabuzda and T-5 Mahlon P. Hartzell, Jr., of the U.S. Induction Station, Harrisburg; A/S Jack Harglerod, Shippensburg, and J. W. Dittman, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Ruth Kauffman, played "I Dream of Jeanne with the Light Brown Hair," "Because" and "I Love You Truly" at the organ.

Shippensburg Students
Mrs. J. K. Harglerod, an aunt of the bride sang "O Promise Me" and "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star." The traditional marches were used for the processional and recessional. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with the Misses Dorothy Naugle, Jane Stewart and Dorothy Hubley, all of Shippensburg, as hostesses.

The bride is a graduate of Shippensburg high school with the class of 1940 and attended Shippensburg State Teachers' college. She is now employed at the field office at Lettensky Ordnance Depot. Technician Hartman is a graduate of Gettysburg high school with the class of 1939 and attended Shippensburg State Teachers' college.

Following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Atlantic City. The bride's going away outfit consisted of cadet blue suit, old rose velvet accessories and an orchid corsage.

The deceased was a retired farmer at Fairfield. He attended Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield.

In addition to his widow he is survived by a son, John, Fairfield.

Car Thieves In Federal Hands

Local state police Thursday afternoon turned over to federal authorities Raymond Haggett, 19, Hudson Hills, New Hampshire, and a 16-year-old companion, who had been charged with the theft of an automobile from Andrew Starnier, Benderville.

The two, who had been held by Adams county authorities since Tuesday, were released to the federal officials under regulations which makes the larceny of a car a federal offense when the car is removed to another state. A charge before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore against Haggett will be dropped. The youths will be taken to York for a hearing before the federal commissioner there.

Littlestown Man Indicted For Fraud

Samuel Weiner, owner of the Jones-Littlestown Clothing company at Littlestown, was named in an indictment Wednesday by a federal grand jury at Philadelphia which returned 11 indictments accusing 12 persons with conspiracies to defraud the government, illegally aiding in the procurement of government contracts, bribery and receiving bribes in connection with War Department contracts made through the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot.

All defendants are either civilian War Department employees at the depot or officials or agents of companies which have obtained War Department contracts there.

David Nager, principal clerk at the depot, is accused of receiving $500 from Weiner for helping procure a contract for 50,000 raincoats. Weiner is accused in connection with another contract.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Lloyd Herring, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Paul Schulze, Emmitsburg; Carol Sue Heiges, Gettysburg; Mrs. John Marks, Gardners; Mrs. Charles Boyer, Biglerville R. 1, and Howard Riley, Gettysburg R. 5, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. There were no discharges.

George Scott, Littlestown R. D., this morning paid a fine of $5 and costs before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore, on a charge of violating the air raid regulations earlier this month by refusing to honor the request of a warden, John Bachensky, that he remain in the local post office building during a morning air raid test.

Here And There

News Collected At Random
If you are planning on sending a Christmas package overseas you are asked by the post office department to do it now . . . and be sure to place it in the mail not later than October 15.

It is not necessary to explain why overseas mailing must be done now. First call for space on all ships leaving American ports is given over to war materials, men, food, munitions, etc. Other available space is for mail, first class and packages. So, if you want some loved ones overseas to receive a Christmas package from you, you must mail it before October 15 . . . but to play even safer, you should mail it NOW. After October 15 a parcel cannot be mailed overseas without a request for the article from the person who is to get it. The post office department also urges the marking of all city mail with the proper delivery zone number.

The parcel must not exceed five pounds and must not be more than 15 inches long or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas Parcel" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25. You cannot mail perishable goods.

E. E. Colley, 22-year old aviation student at the 55th College Training Detachment, Gettysburg college, wears the campaign bars of the African invasion.

Cadet Colley is a native of Tecumseh, Oklahoma. He enlisted in the Air Corps in August 1940 and was sent to Lowry Field, Colorado. He had intended to be a mechanic but he was assigned to the photographic branch. A year later he was sent to Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., and after the invasion of Africa he was sent overseas as a laboratory technician and ground photographer. He made several long flights with Colonel Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, who was then a captain. One of his flights took him from Nigeria over French West Africa to Cairo and return on a photo mission. Now Colley is anxious to become a pilot.

If Adams countians keep on meeting in Africa they might have a regiment of their own.

The most recent reunion of countians overseas is that of James H. Harness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Harness, with Norman Small, George Tate and his brother Mike and a Lawrence boy of Gettysburg. Harness wrote to his parents here that he expected to hold another reunion with the boys mentioned above and Lieutenant C. W. Epley, Jr., Major Stuart Moyer, John Myers and Philip Small. Nine Gettysburg boys in the same area in Africa is not such a bad representation. And there are others nearby.

C. OF C. DINNER MEET TUESDAY

An analysis of "community self-appraisal and post-war planning" will be contained in an address to be given Tuesday evening at the first fall membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The speaker will be Ralph W. Cummings, of the state Department of Commerce, who will outline methods of determining what the community can do to secure expansion after the war and what steps can be taken by the town to prevent post-war unemployment.

Mares Sherman, president of the Chamber, has urged all of the members to attend the session, to be held at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. The meeting will be the first since last spring and a number of matters of business are pending for the session, Mr. Sherman said.

Girl Injured As Car Upsets

Phyllis Elker, 16, of 210 North Stratton street, was treated at the Warner hospital Sunday for lacerations and abrasions received when she was thrown from a car.

The automobile, operated by Clarence Swinn, 31 East Lincoln avenue, is reported to have run off the highway and upset near McKnightstown.

To Break Tie Votes, Oct. 1

Clerks of the Adams county board of elections were getting ready today for their busiest session of the year—counting the ballots of Tuesday's primaries. The official count began at 12 noon today and is expected to continue into next week.

The number of ties that occurred for smaller offices in the townships and boroughs of the county, if borne out in the official count, will be decided by the casting of lots, October 1, at noon at the court house.

SPANISH AGAIN TAUGHT AT GHS; LACK TEACHER

The addition of Spanish to the curriculum at Gettysburg high school was approved Monday evening at the September meeting of the local school board. At the same session the directors, unable to decide upon a successor for Miss Dorothy Brindle, resigned music supervisor, left the matter of the selection in the hands of Superintendent L. C. Keefeaver.

Meanwhile music instruction is being omitted in the local public schools.

The Spanish course, which is being offered this year by Miss Ruth Spangler, who is also French instructor, is the first that has been offered at the local high school in 20 years. Spanish replaced German in the curriculum in 1917 but was dropped in 1924.

Set Tuition Rates

Plans to re-arrange the desks in one of the rooms at Lincoln school in order to take care of the overflow of students in the sixth grade were discussed Monday evening. Forty-two of the 82 students in the sixth grade are in one room, it was reported. Present seating arrangements will not be efficient during winter weather, the board was told.

Most of the matters before the board referred to improvements of the various school properties including reports on painting at the high school and other schools and the roofing of Lincoln school.

Tuition costs for the current year were set at $74.91 for non-resident high school students and $53.40 for elementary students.

Paul A. Kinsey, chairman of the Gettysburg Recreation Board, reported on activities at the playground during last summer and announced that plans are being discussed to construct several tennis courts at the grounds. No action has been taken so far on the courts, with the plans still in the tentative state, he reported.

The insurance policy for the boilers at the school buildings was renewed for three years with John H. Baschore. The use of the high school auditorium for the bond rally show September 21 was approved.

Following the reading of a letter from the state highway department pointing out that the department "does not approve" of the use of metal school boys at corners where school children cross, the board took advantage of a provision which allows use of the school boys until other signs can be erected and ordered the placing of the school boys at the regular times. The school boys had not been placed during the first week of school pending receipt of the decision by the State department of highways in regards to the legality of the signs.

It was reported that the cafeteria at the high school was being operated with Mrs. Pinkney Hess in charge during the mornings.

Mrs. Hess will assume full charge of the cafeteria later this fall, it was stated, after she has completed her present employment at a local factory.

The report of the treasurer disclosed a balance of $80,331, as of September 10. Income for the preceding month included a balance from July of $18,297.82, and payments of $6,303.27 from 1943 taxes, a small amount from 1942 taxes and $14,845.01 state appropriation. Total income was $36,536.90. Expenses included: General control, $644.12; expenses of instruction, $5,960.54; auxiliary agencies, $100.38; operation of plant, $625.43; repair of buildings, $851.68 and repairs of equipment, $435.73. The sinking fund was reported as containing $2,471.42, including $483 transferred from the general fund during the last month.

Fifth Son Will Enter Service Soon

When Claude E. Snyder, "M" street, Littlestown, reports for duty in the United States Army, September 22, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Snyder, Prince street, that place, will have contributed their fifth son to the armed forces of the United States. Three are already in the Army and one in the Navy.

Claude, who is oldest of the five sons, volunteered for service September 1. T. Sgt. Earl L. Snyder, enlisted in December, 1941. He is with the Air Corps and has been somewhere in North Africa since January. Sgt. Melvin A. Snyder, who enlisted in March, 1942, is in the Army and is stationed at the Medical college in Richmond, Virginia. PFC Norman W. Snyder, enlisted in the Army in October, 1942. He is in an armored division and receives his mail in care of the postmaster at Los Angeles, Calif. Robert Leslie Snyder, A-S, the youngest of the five brothers, enlisted in the Navy, August 26, 1943, and is stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training School in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder also have a son-in-law, James Eaves, in the service. He is a pilot in the Air Corps and is stationed at Jackson, Mississippi. Mrs. Eaves' wife, the former Miss Helen Snyder, was a Red Cross nurse and was located at Atlanta, Georgia, up until the time of her marriage. She is now residing at Jackson.

32 FAMILIES SEEK HOMES

Thirty-two families ranging in size from two to five in each family are seeking housing facilities in Gettysburg, according to an official of the War Mapping Division of the U.S. Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture.

The unit, housed in Lee-Meade Inn, along the Emmitsburg road, plans to employ about thirty additional men locally in the early future. In addition other members have been assigned to the local office from the west.

The housing shortage is acute, an official said this morning. "We have been living in trailers, cabins and tourist camps all summer but we must have better accommodations for the winter months. We have 28 families to care for. Fourteen have three in each family; nine have four each; four have five in each family and there are five couples. We are seeking homes for these people."

The housing shortage in Gettysburg has been evident for many months. Officials and workers for the firm which laid the "Big Inch" pipe line through here were unable to secure accommodations last year and there has not been any change in the situation at this time.
